POHER HEADS FRANCE

Gold Attains High; Franc Near Floor

. . . AFTER DE GAULLE RESIGNS

Paris (AP) — Alain Poher, an unknown outside France, received the powers of the presidency of Charles de Gaulle's Fifth Republic without ceremony Monday, but his only major task is to set up a presidential election.

De Gaulle remained behind the green iron gates of his country estate at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises in eastern France, where the tolling of the church clock at noon marked the end of his 10 years of rule. Noon was the hour De Gaulle himself had selected for leaving France "to its destiny."

Stirs Up Guessing

His resignation — the result of a sharp defeat in a referendum calling for decentralization of power and Senate reform — stirred up all kinds of guessing in Europe and around the world.

Gold and currency markets encountered a new flurry of trading. The French franc hit new lows and gold new highs in Paris, underscoring the uncertainty some felt about the French economy without De Gaulle.

The British looked with renewed hope for joining the European Common Market. The West Germans and others foresaw the possibility of a more flexible France and European political unity. Israelis expressed a hope for a change in what they regarded as De Gaulle's pro-Arab policies and the Arabs considered they had lost a friend.

One Minister Quits

Premier Maurice Couve de Murville arrived at Elysee Palace shortly after noon for a 45-minute talk with Poher. Couve de Murville and all ministers — with one exception — will stay on during the interim period of 20-35 days required for election of a new president. Justice Minister Rene Capitant, an ardent left-wing Gaullist, resigned saying he could ~~not~~ possibly work with Poher, who had campaigned for a "no" vote in the referendum.

Gold hit a record level of $49.09 an ounce on the Paris free market and the franc sank to its floor level. Volume on the gold market was not heavy and there were few sellers. The previous record for an ounce of gold in Paris was $48.41, set on March 10.

Under international monetary rules, the franc parity is set at 4.93706 to the dollar, and can make limited variations from this parity. When it reaches 4.9740, the Bank of France is obliged to buy all dollars offered from its reserves. It reached this floor level Monday for the first time since the monetary crisis last November.

Politicians At Work

Offstage, French politicians were working overtime.

Valery Giscard d'Estaing, a leader of the Independent Republicans who have been part of the Gaullist majority, set forth his ideas of the ideal candidate for the presidency.

The description seemed to be meant to apply to former premier Antoine Pinay, 78. But Pinay took himself out of the running.

Poher is considered a front-runner to be the Centrist candidate.

Committees supporting former premier Georges Pompidou as the Gaullist candidate sprang up in several places in France. Pompidou refused to make any kind of statement, but is not expected to wait long to jump into the race.

Izvestia Detects Swing To West

© New York Times Service

Moscow — Soviet reaction to the resignation of President Charles de Gaulle was cautious but by Monday evening a note of concern had become plain.

Reporting from Paris, the government newspaper Izvestia said information was circulating that "rightist" forces were plotting to redirect French foreign policy toward "Atlantism," a closer relationship with the United States.

Diplomatic observers considered this the principal negative result, from Moscow's point of view, of the success of the French left, particularly the Communist Party, in unseating De Gaulle.

De Gaulle, whose anti-American foreign policy the Soviet Union approved, had always confronted the Soviet Union with a difficult problem in public statements.

The problem was how to combine approval of the president as the principal Western statesman who represented views of such issues as the war in Vietnam and the Middle East that were close to Soviet policy, while supporting the French Communist Party, which opposed the president.

Game 'Getting Out Of Hand' . . .

Tighter Bingo Control Urged

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Legislation to tighten up Nebraska's bingo law, but permit bingo operations on Sunday, was presented to the Unicameral's Revenue Committee Monday and held for later action.

Local governmental subdivisions are "not doing a good job of enforcing the law," Randall Rinquest, attorney for the state tax commissioner, told the committee.

Bingo he said, is "getting out of hand."

The proposed bill, LB1224, with amendments, would give the tax commissioner authority to enforce the law by handing him the power to revoke bingo licenses after a hearing on the complaint.

The bill would also limit to two the number of licenses which could be combined to conduct a bingo game jointly, thereby doubling the $750 in prize money which could be dispensed at a single day's session.

"This game of combining licenses is out of hand," Rinquest said. Three or four licenses are being combined in some instances in Omaha, he said, thereby tripling and quadrupling the maximum prize money.

A further tightening of the law would be required by specifically providing that the $750 limitation includes not only cash and merchandise given for winning a bingo game, but other prize-sharing gimmicks now being used.

Carryover jackpot games, which permit a prize to grow from one session to the next, would be banned.

The main purpose of the 1959 bingo law was to provide "low-cost recreation," largely for older citizens, and permit churches and other non-profit organizations to raise funds for their purposes, Rinquest noted.

But, in Omaha, bingo operations have become competitive as a result of the combination of licenses and prize-sharing gimmicks, the committee was told.

"Individual small churches have been hurt the most," Rinquest said.

"It's getting to be a racket with all these extra giveaways," Joseph Cerveny of Omaha told the senators.

Cerveny, speaking for the Catholic Youth Organization, said the law is not being enforced in Omaha.

The state's 5% share of gross proceeds from bingo operations amounts to $148,000 a year, indicating that Nebraskans now gamble almost $3 million annually on the game.

There are between 325 and 350 licensees.

Among other changes made by LB1224, signed by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, are lowering the age of eligibility to 20 and permitting bingo operations by municipalities for senior citizen recreation programs.

Also held for later consideration was LB1286, which would amend the sales tax to provide exemptions for materials used in the manufacturing or processing of items for sale at retail.

The law now exempts component parts of such items.

Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha, chief sponsor of LB1286, said equity demands that other material which is used up in the processing phase of production, but not incorporated into the product as a component part, should also be exempted.

Support for the proposal came from Behlen Manufacturing Co., the Nebraska Tax Research Council and spokesmen for the printing industry.

Killed, on identical 5-1 votes, were LB914 and LB915, which would provide sales and personal property tax exemptions for air and water pollution control facilities.

Assembly Passes Bill Barring Guns In N.Y. Colleges

Albany, N.Y. (AP) — A bill, urged by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, that would ban guns from college campuses in New York was overwhelmingly approved Monday in the state assembly.

The legislation was sent to the senate for expected concurrence.

The assembly's action came eight days after gun-carrying Negro militants at Cornell University left a student center they had occupied.

Boy Past Crucial Period

. . . AFTER HEART 'PACEMAKER' IMPLANTATION

Omaha (AP) — One-year-old Kennet Schoonover of Lincoln, one of the youngest persons ever to have a "pacemaker" device to aid his heartbeat, was reported past the crucial period Monday.

Last Thursday doctors at the Univrestiy of Nebraska medical center implanted the yo-yo-shaped device about two inches in diameter and a half-inch thick in Kennet's abdominal wall.

The pacemaker, enclosed in plastic, has two wires or electrodes which are plugged into his heart. The wires will uncoil as the boy grows.

From the pacemaker electrical impulses from a battery power source go to the lower heart chambers and make the heart work at 90 beats a minute. Because of a congenital defect Kennet's own system would make the heart beat at only about 40 beats a minute.

Kennet will have to have x-rays every three months to check the device and batteries probably will have to be replaced in two years, doctors said.

Kennet is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schoonover of Lincoln.

Quake In Southern California Causes Alarm But Little Harm

Indio, Calif. (AP) — An earthquake apparently centered near the Salton Sea shook Southern California Monday afternoon, causing widespread alarm but little harm.

The temblor set the police department radio room in this Coachella Valley community "rocking and rolling . . . boy, how it was rolling and rocking," the dispatcher said.

California Highway Patrol units reported minor rockslides on State Highway 74 in nearby mountains.

Still There

Doomsdayers have predicted that California would be devastated by a giant earthquake in April. Most predictions were for it to happen on Good Friday. So far the state still is here.

In Mecca, the nearest town north of the Salton Sea, Jack Gillespie, who works in a gasoline station, said the quake "was quite a jolt — it knocked several things off the shelves."

Gillespie said he ran to the front of the station and saw, about seven or eight miles away, "giant rocks come bounding down the Santa Rosa mountains."

"They were being knocked around like marbles," he said.

Residents of scores of cities reported buildings swayed and dishes rattled, but there were no immediate reports of damage.

In Pasadena, the California Institute of Technology assigned the quake a magnitude of from 5.25 to 5.5 on the Richter scale, not strong enough to cause serious damage. A spokesman said it was centered near the north end of the Salton Sea.

High-Rise Apartment Plan Approved

The City Council Monday granted N. E. Copple a change of zone that would permit development of his proposed high-rise apartment at 52nd and R Sts.

The council approved the change of zone from D Multiple to E Multiple after Copple filed a restrictive covenant that would limit development of the high-rise apartment.

The covenant states that all aspects of the present D Multiple Dwelling zone will apply to the building except the increased height permitted under the new zoning.

The high rise apartment will be eight-sided with underground parking for tenants.

Several council members last week were unsure whether they would go for a E Multiple zone change that could lead to increased density of the area.

Norman Krivosha, city attorney, told the council Monday that although there is a protective covenant, the city could not force Copple to abide by it.

Krivosha added, though, that such a covenant would be a "psychological block" on the developers since the neighbors could enforce it and that a financial institution would not lend money for any development not permitted by the restrictive covenant.

Liquor License OKd For The Black Coach

A Class C liquor license for the Black Coach Restaurant at 10th and Arapahoe Sts. was approved Monday by the City Council.

The license was granted to the B & C Corp., which plans to purchase the restaurant, as a renewal of the present license now held by Commercial Enterprises.

The restaurant has been closed for several months while the present owners have been involved in court litigation.

Emmett Junge, safety director, said the legal counsel for the State Liquor Commission, indicated that the council could approve the license since the status of the court litigation against previous owners "would not enter into consideration of the current application since the applicants plan to purchase the premises."

The B & c Corp. plans to build a motel in conjunction with the business with construction expected to start this fall.

The two officers of the corporation were present at the public hearing on the license but did not appear before the council. No one spoke in opposition.

The officers are Eugene Connor, of Yankton, S.D., who will serve as president, and William Osborne, formerly of Yankton, who will serve as resident agent as well as being vice president of the corporation.

The council approved the application of Osborne, 2501 W St., as manager of the liquor license.

Police Chief Joseph Carroll indicated in his investigation of the application that the supper club will open May 25 according to tentative plans.

Carroll said the incorporators of the B & C Corp. planned to buy the now-closed supper club for $310,000 once a license is approved at that site.

The license must still be approved by the State Liquor Commission.

Armor Barrage Halts Red Attack

Saigon (AP) — Advancing behind a curtain of shell fire, about 150 North Vietnamese attacked a U.S. armored column near the Laotian border Monday, but were stopped by point-blank artillery, tank gun and heavy machine-gun fire.

Some enemy soldiers got inside the column's defense perimeter and attacked the armor with flame throwers and dynamite bombs. But a withering barrage from the American tanks and armored cars backed up by artillery killed at least 34 of the attackers in the 4½-hour battle.

Five Americans were killed and 34 wounded in the fight which occurred five miles from the Laotian border in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

The fighting raged two miles south of the abandoned U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh, scene of a 77-day enemy siege last year before help came from an allied task force. The base was later abandoned in favor of a more mobile strike force.

Monday's attack, on a night bivouac of elements of the 1st Brigade, 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, was the second in four days against the division.

The 5th Division's troops have been operating near the Laotian border area the past few days to choke off enemy supply and infiltration routes from Laos.

In other action Monday, elements of the 23rd Infantry (American) Division clashed with Viet Cong forces about 15 miles south of Da Nang, killing 16 enemy soldiers. No U.S. casualties were reported.

Spokesmen said members of a South Korean marine battalian on a routine search mission Sunday found three 122mm rocket launchers and one rocket about 11 miles south of Da Nang.

The discovery was made within range of the Marble Mountain air facility, a frequent target for enemy gunners.

New York Times News Summary

New Head Of France Favors European Unity

(C) New York Times News Service

Paris — Senate President Alain Poher, an advocate of European unity and a man virtually unknown until recently, became president of France Monday. He promised elections within a few weeks, but did not say if he would run as a candidate of the non-Gaullist conservatives against the probable Gaullist conservatives against the probable Gaullist nominee, Georges Pompidou. (More on Page 1.)

Gold Demand Touched Off

Paris — The resignation of President de Gaulle, and its accompanying political and financial uncertainties, touched off a new demand for gold. In a pattern similar to last year's monetary crisis, the French franc and the British pound weakened while the West German mark strengthened.

Nixon Praises De Gaulle

Washington — President Nixon bestowed personal and official praise on retired President de Gaulle and hoped that the "effective dialogue" established between them could be continued with the new Franch government.

Britain Makes Unity Pledge

London — Although no official announcements concerning the fall of President de Gaulle were made, Britain implicitly showed its anticipation by formally pledging to work with Italy for greater European unity during a state visit by Italian President Giuseppe Saragat.

O'Neill Quits In N. Ireland

Belfast — A frustrated Capt. Terence O'Neill resigned as prime minister of Northern Ireland. In recent months he had steadily lost the support of his Protestant-dominated Unionist Party as he sought to bridge the gap between the Protestants and Ulster's minority Roman Catholics.

Pope Creates Commission

Rome — At a consistory for the creation of 33 new cardinals, Pope Paul VI announced the formation of a theological commission to trace the boundary between heresy and legitimate changes in the Roman Catholic Church. (More on Page 2.)

Top Chinese Committees Elected

Hong Kong — A 21-man politburo and a standing committee of five were elected at the first meeting of the new central committee of the Chinese Communist Party. The five-man committee is headed by Mao Tise-tung and includes Lin Piao, Premier Chou En-lai and two other men who were leaders of the recent purge.

Model Cities Program Shuffled

Washington — A major reorganization of the model cities program was announced by George Romney, secretary of housing and urban development. Under the new program local officials will have the power to expand model neighborhoods to include all poverty areas within the city. (More on Page 21.)

Undoing Of Merger Sought

Washington — The Justice Department, in an unusual move, filed an antitrust suit aimed at forcing the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. to undo its merger with the Canteen Corp. It also sought an injunction to keep the companies apart until the suit is decided. The normal practice has been for such suits to be filed before a merger took place, not after.

Nixon Concedes Error

Washington — President Nixon conceded that he had been wrong to deny the directorship of the National Science Foundation to the Cornell scientist, Dr. Franklin A. Long, because of Long's opposition to the proposed Sentinel antimissile system.

Renewal Of Strike Rejected

Cambridge — Students at Harvard and Radcliffe voted overwhelmingly not to renew the strike at the university, according to figures released by the Harvard undergraduate council. Slightly more than 4,000 of the school's 15,000 students voted in the referendum.

U.S. Show Of Strength Weaker But It Goes On

World News

Washington (AP) — The Nixon administration is scaling down the U.S. show of naval strength off Korean and will rely mainly on South Korea-based aircraft to defend intelligence flights in the area.

This became apparent Monday when the Pentagon announced breakup of the 29-ship armada that was rushed to the Sea of Japan after North Korea shot down an unarmed EC121 aircraft April 15.

Pentagon spokesman Daniel Z. Henkin said 21 ships of Task Force 71 are either already in port or headed for ports in Japan and the Philippines, with only eight others remaining near Korea.

Pentagon sources said later that U.S. air units in South Korea have been strengthened with the addition of an Air Force F4 Phantom squadron which was diverted from an assignment in Vietnam.

Two other F4 squadrons also are due to go to South Korea in the next few weeks to relieve F100 squadrons manned by National Guard personnel who were activated after last year's Pueblo crisis.

The Phantom is the standard U.S. jet used for air cover, or escort missions.

Before the U.S. intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo was seized by the North Koreans in January 1968, the United States had only seven attack aircraft in South Korea.

150 Planes Now

Air strength there now stands at about 150 planes including several squadrons of F4s and earlier generation F100s, nuclear-capable F105s and F106 interceptors.

No Changes Planned In Code Of Conduct

Washington (AP) — The Navy said Monday that crewmen of the spy ship Pueblo will not be court-martialed for technical violations of the military code of conduct, but no changes in the code are planned as a result of the incident.

Top Navy officers refused to rule out possible prosecutions for violation of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, however, pending a decision by the court of inquiry investigating the Pueblo affair.

The officers conceded at a hearing before a House armed services subcommittee that portions of the code of conduct need clarification.

One clarification that surprised the subcommittee came from Brig. Gen. Leo A. Benade, deputy assistant secretary of defense for manpower and reserve affairs.

Benade said a military captive is allowed to give more information than name, rank, service number and date of birth. He said it might be permissible for a prisoner to discuss with his captors the state of his health or other such purely personal matters

"That's the first time I and perhaps the whole country has ever heard that," commented the subcommittee chairman, Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y.

Rear Adm. Joseph B. McDevitt, judge advocate general of the Navy, said violations of the code can technically be prosecuted.

"But it is not the policy of the Navy to punish violation of the code of conduct," added Vice Adm. Charles K. Duncan, chief of naval personnel.

Doctrine Commission Set Up By Pope

Vatican City (UPI) — Pope Paul VI Monday formally advised 33 prelates, including four Americans, of their nominations to the college of cardinals.

At the same time, the pontiff announced creation of a new Vatican commission to help keep Roman Catholic doctrine in tune with the times.

Liberal churchmen hailed the Pope's decision to set up a theological commission as giving rebel priests an outlet in the Vatican for their controversial views on marriage, celibacy and birth control.

Unofficial sources said the pontiff might name as its head Bishop John Joseph Wright of Pittsburgh, one of the 33 gathered at the Vatican for the four days of secret rituals that will make them princes of the church. The names of two other new cardinals are secret

When the Pope announced his intention to elevate Wright to cardinal last month, the Vatican said he would leave his Pittsburgh post for a job in the Roman Curia, the church's central administration. But it did not say what his new post would be.

The four Americans are Bishop Wright, 59, and Archbishops Terence J. Cook, 48, of New York, John F. Dearden, 61, of Detroit, Mich., and John J. Carberry, 64, of St. Louis, Mo.

150 Hospital Protesters Arrested In Charleston

Charleston, S.C. (AP) — More than 150 persons were arrested Monday as a Negro leader vowed to continue demonstrations until the demands of striking hospital workers are met.

This brought to more than 350 the number of demonsrators arrested since Friday when the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was jailed while leading a march against the two hospitals Abernathy remained in jail Monday, refusing bond.

Many of those arrested Monday included juveniles participating in a Negro school boycott. Like other youngsters arrested since the demonstrations began, they were released immediately to their families.

The strikes began late last month when officials of the two hospitals refused to bargain with Local 1199B of the Hospital and Nursing Home Workers Union.

Officials of the Medical College of South Carolina Hospital and Charleston County Hospital said they could not deal with the union because salaries at the institutions are set by legislative appropriation.

Cuba Bound?

Chicago (UPI)—Officials at O'Hare International Airport say all of the Department of Transportation's 100 new signs warning of penalties facing hijackers have been stolen.

Armed Students Seize Building

Denmark, S.C. (AP) — A group of militant Negro students, armed with knives and guns, took over the administration building at Voorhees College Monday and refused to send a delegation out to discuss their grievances with administrative officials.

Dr. John F. Potts, president of the school, said he would meet with other officials of the predominantly Negro school to discuss what line of action to take.

The students took over the combination administration building-library complex at about noon, and plastered the windows with black power signs, one reading "Malcolm X University."

High Court Will Rule On Punitive Inductions

Washington (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed Monday to rule next term on the government's use of punitive draft reclassifications against defiant and disruptive war protesters.

At issue was the directive by Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey that local draft boards should consider reclassifying registrants if they participate in illegal activities which interfere with operation of the system.

The court announced that appeals by two youths involved in such cases will be heard in the next term which starts in September. A written opinion will be handed down subsequently.

The appeals were brought on behalf of David Earl Gutknecht of Gaylord, Minn., and Timothy J. Breen of Bridgeport, Conn.

Gutknecht contended that his order to report for induction was illegally speeded up after he dropped his registration and classification cards at the feet of a U.S. marshal Oct. 16, 1967, while participating in an antidraft demonstration in Minneapolis.

He was later convicted of failing to submit to induction and sentenced to four years in jail. His attorney cited the Hershey directive in the appeal which the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals rejected Jan. 20.

The Justice Department argued that Gutknecht might have been called up just as quickly under ordinary circumstances.

Breen, an undergraduate at Berkeley School of Music in Boston, turned over his draft registration card to a clergymen to show his dissent to the war and his local board reclassified him.

Barbed Wire Hobbyists Gather In Swap Session

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

McCook — Nebraska's most pointed hobby show drew some 50 exhibitors from eight states over the weekend, plus countless miles of the stuff they deal in—barbed wire.

Hacked into 18-inch lengths, seemingly the rustier the better, some specimens sported price tags of well over $50. But there was far more swapping than outright sales.

"Primarily these people are traders who hit different shows in one state after another this time of year," said Bob Brosseau of North Platte. A relative newcomer to the rapidly growing hobby, he heads the 125-member Nebraska Barbed Wire Collectors Association.

Nebraska News

Holding its second annual show here, the group hosted hobbyists from as far as Texas. But it was homestaters who had the most booths—and who had some of the top displays.

Bill Zieg, for example, displayed 604 beautifully mounted specimens. That's far from the 20,000 rocks in his Alliance museum, but is considered tremendous for his short stint in wire.

Searched Junk Piles

"I've only been at this 2½ years, but built fast by trading and looking through every junk pile in the country," explained the affable sign painter. "And I'm proud to say I never took a piece from anybody since without asking."

Stratton's Bill Powell specializes more in fencing tools rather than wire himself. He also evoked frequent chuckles with his unique toilet seat, it's transparent plastic covering coiled barbed wire.

To Bob Hoyt of North Platte, 10, went the distinction of being the youngest exhibitor. Last year's show hooked the youngster, son of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Hoyt, and he proudly displayed his "40-odd starter set."

"There's a possibility of 1,000 or so different wires, including patent varieties and revisions,'' explained Clarence LaRue of Trenton, show chairman. "A couple years ago I didn't know one wire from another, but now I take collecting as seriously — and have just as much fun — as anybody."

Among the unusual rating top attention were two types, Dodge and Wormley, which had been discovered by Lexington's Keith Hanna. Tom Rowley of North Platte made one find which has never been identified.

Nebraska-Made Wire

Interestingly, a number of wires were manufactured in Nebraska, including the rather common "Huffman Ladder" of Utica. Contrasted with several century old varieties were brightly-hued plastics now used for "fancy fencing."

Fortunately for persons of moderate means, many strands were available in the 50 cent range. One Texan had a sideline of rattlesnake rattles—at two bits per.

"We get all of these we want when we're out looking for wire," he drawled. "In fact, more than we want."

Ammo Plant Workers Back On Job After Short Stoppage

Grand Island (AP) — Workers at the Cornhusker Ordnance Plant near here returned to their jobs on the night shift Monday following a day-long work stoppage.

The stoppage began when pickets from the Operating Engineers Union Local 571 appeared Monday morning in protest to road work being done by a non-union sub-contractor, the James E. Sionion Co. of North Platte. Other union members respected the picket lines.

The workers said Monday night they returned to work under a temporary restraining order issued Monday morning by Hall County District Judge Donald Weaver.

The order prohibits any of the 11 local unions from striking the Mason and Hanger, Silas-Mason Co., operators of the plant.

The plant employes some 4,000 workers and has been loading bombs for Vietnam.

Judge Weaver set May 8 for a hearing on a possible temporary injunction.

J. B. Murray, 71, Former Pender Publisher, Dies

Pender — Word has been received here of the death of James Byron Murray, 71, former publisher of the Pender Times, in Long Beach Calif., where he had resided the past seven years.

A native of Pender, he was publisher of the Times for 15 years. Later he served as advertising manager of the Bellevue Press.

Mr. Murray had attended the University of Nebraska. He was a member of Sigma Chi, the Catholic Church and Elks Club. He served with the Rainbow Division during World War I.

Surviving are a son, James, and four grandsons, all of Garden Grove, Calif.; and sisters, Mrs. L. D. Quigley of Green Bay, Wis., and Mrs. Catherine Eddy of Lincoln.

Summary of Conditions

A ridge of high pressure is locateed north and south throughout the eastern portion of central Nebraska and is expected to move into the Ohio Valley section by Wednesday morning. Pressures are falling along the eastern slope of the central and northern Rockies with a trough developing in that section Tuesday and becoming a warm front into central Nebraska by Wednesday morning.

Southerly winds will cover Nebraska and Iowa by noon Tuesday and will result in warmer temperatures over both states through Wednesday. Skies over the area will be fair Tuesday and fair to partly cloudy Tuesday night and Wednesday with a chance of scattered showers developing over western Nebraska at night and spreading slowly eastward Wednesday.

Rev. Fangmeyer, 58, Is Dead; Served Large ALC Churches

Beatrice (AP) — The Rev. Otto K. Fangmeyer, the youngest pastor to serve three of the largest American Lutheran Church congregations in the nation, died Monday at the age of 58 following an extended illness.

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at St. John Lutheran in Beatrice.

The Byron native first served in Beeville, Tex. He subsequently served St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Waverly, Iowa, the largest ALC church west of the Mississippi; Martin Luther Church in Canton Ohio, one of the largest churches in Ohio; and since 1958 the St. John Lutheran Church in Beatrice, the largest church in the ALC Central District.

Hebron Graduate

The Rev. Mr. Fangmeyer graduated from Hebron Academy and received his bachelor of divinity and master of theology degrees at Wartburg Seminary at Dubuque, Iowa.

He had been vice president of the Dana College Board of Regents, a member of the ALC Chaplain Service Committee and a member of a committee appointed by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann that was studying state religious and moral problems.

Norfolk Woman Faces Charges In Fatal Crash

Madison (AP) — A Norfolk woman was arraigned Monday on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident in connection with the Feb. 22 death of Pedro Perez, 76, of Norfolk.

Mrs. Clara Gokie, 69, was released on $500 bond by Madison County Judge Bruce Henning. Date for preliminary hearing was not set.

Madison County Atty. Milton Ellwood said witnesses reported seeing Perez being struck by an automobile and dragged several blocks down a Norfolk street.

Ellwood said Mrs. Gokie's automobile was impounded shortly after the accident and he received a report on FBI laboratory tests last week.

Omaha Marine Killed In Blast

Omaha (AP) —Marine Lance Cpl. Paul T. Bazar, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bazar, Omaha, died Friday near An Hoa, South Vietnam.

His parents were informed Monday by the Marine Corps that their son died of wounds suffered from the explosion of an enemy missile.

Cpl. Bazar attended South High School until his enlistment in the Marines in June, 1968. He had been in Vietnam with the First Marine Division since December.

Reward Offered At Hastings On Bomb Threat Information

Hastings (AP) — A reward of $250 was offered Monday for information leading to arrest and conviction of the anonymous caller responsible for five telephoned bomb threats in Hastings schools during the past week.

Dr. Thomas Keating, superintendent-elect, said the reward was offered by the Hastings Junior High PTA, the Adams County sheriff's office and the Hastings School District office.

Dr. Keating said the 2,300 students in the junior and senior high schools lost 3½ hours in classroom time during searches conducted after a caller reported bombs had been placed in the buildings. Three of the calls involved the senior high and two the junior high manual arts building.

Adams County Attorney William Connolly said conviction on the offense provides a sentence of six months in jail or a fine of $500, or both.

Few Start Corn Planting But Soil Temps Too Low

. . . DECLARE AG EXPERTS

During the past week, there was much activity in seed bed preparation among Nebraska's farmers, although local showers aggravated this condition.

This was reported Monday by the State-Federal Bureau of Agricultural Statistics in its weekly crop-weather report.

A few farmers started planting corn on lighter soils, but soil temperatures are still too low for good germination, the ag experts said.

Other comments from the bureau:

Freezing temperatures were reported in the northwest half of the state over the weekend, dropping to as low as 16 degrees at Sidney Monday morning.

Wheat is making favorable progress, and cutworm damage has been limited by effective spraying. Strong winds in the west caused a high evaporative rate and limited the effectiveness of precipitation.

Most spring small grains and legumes have been seeded, and early plantings are emerging. Sugar beets have been planted in the Platte Valley, but some acreage remains to be planted in other areas.

There was some irrigation of alfalfa in the upper Platte Valley, but some acreage remains to be planted in other areas.

There was some irrigation of alfalfa in the upper Platte Valley and recently planted beets may need to be irrigated for germination. Alfalfa growth has been slow, and some spots show signs of winter kill.

Moisture received throughout the state during the past week included:

Sidney Temp Of 16 Ranks As U.S. Low

By The Associated Press

A late-season cold snap plagued Nebraska Monday as Scottsbluff recorded a record low temperature while the national low for the day was set in Sidney.

Freezing or near freezing temperatures sent an early morning chill from the Rockies to the northern Great Lakes.

Scottsbluff's Monday morning reading of 21 degrees was one degree lower than the previous all-time record set in 1956 and matched in 1966.

In Sidney, the mercury dipped to 16 degrees giving Sidney the dubious distinction of being the coldest spot in the 48 states.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Proof that nothing remains the same has been supplied by French President Charles de Gaulle. Having resigned his office following the election defeat of a proposed reorganization of the government, De Gaulle becomes the last of famous World War II allied figures to leave public life.

Certainly, De Gaulle had become a legend, to the point where one blindly wonders what now will become of France. While the former general had amassed a great reservoir of animosity throughout the world, as well as his own country, his personal capactiy for leadership was beyond doubt.

When he came to power 10 years ago, France was on the verge of total disaster. One government after another had floundered on the rocks of political turmoil and economic uncertainty. For the first time since the end of the war, De Gaulle brought France stability in both areas.

But it was the state of the economy that ultimately brought the haughty De Gaulle down. While he survived a student and labor union revolt of a year ago, the confrontation greatly weakened his administration and set the stage for the negative vote in the Sunday referendum.

France under De Gaulle was often a thorn in the side of the allies, pulling out of the military side of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, vetoing England's entry into the European Common Market, separating Western Europe from the United States and establishing friendly ties with Russia.

In his own country and among some economists of the world, he stood by the franc only for the sake of obstinancy. Some felt that devaluation of the franc was the only orderly manner in which to restore its strength.

In refusing to devalue, De Gaulle pushed austerity upon his own people and it may have been this, whether it was right or wrong, that undermined his support among the voters. An electorate generally does not like to tighten its economic belt and can seldom be convinced that it needs to do so.

De Gaulle was such a personally dominant figure and wielded such strong political power that it is a shock to realize he has resigned his office. Now, thoughts must turn to the consequences of his actions.

It is here that things are not so clear. Perhaps the greatest criticism that can be leveled at De Gaulle is the manner in which he has left office, without providing for much of any continuity in the affairs of the nation.

If the French president were wrong in his policies and his dreams of glory for France, it is now up to others to prove the point. In doing so, it will be their responsibility to build a nation and a world in which the old problems are solved.

Utimately, that becomes the role of the critic — he must begin to prove in action the validity of his own position. The United States is now awaiting this from President Richard M. Nixon and the same thing now faces France.

Will a moderation of the policies of the French general contribute to the peace of the world and the stability of the economy of that and other nations? All we can do is wait and see what changes are made and what effect they have on the scene.

But we do know that the old must move on and a way cleared for different people and different approaches to the problems of society. There is not a political or economics system in existence where this is not the case.

The dictatorships of communism may evolve more slowly than the structures of democracy but even the communists find that things will not stay the same year after year. But change is of no intrinsic value so those who are a party to it must make it an asset or it is likely to become a liability.

France is a vital part of the world, a nation of some 50 million people whose future is closely alligned with our own. The resignation of De Gaulle brings an era to an end but this will be an advantage only if his successors have the ability to make it such.

Toothache Could Be A Complex Of Guilt

The American Dental Society has sent me a few pounds of medical findings (at my request) on the psychological aspects of the Scared New World. Dentists used to fill cavities; now they are forced to psychoanalyze mouths.

Among their findings:

Hippies and Yippies neglect their teeth, just as they neglect their clothing and hairdos. "The dirtier and more unkempt the clothing and hair, the dirtier the mouth," claims Dr. Martin R. Protell, who treats adolescents at a psychiatric hospital in New York. But they tend not to complain about the pain that accompanies their periodontal disease, because "their threshold of pain is higher than that for most other people."

Proving that anxiety and tension spurs gum disease, students cramming for exams are often beset with trenchmouth. And studies show that far more privates and second lieutenants in the armed forces suffer from gum problems than comparable numbers of sergeants and majors.

A patient will sometimes feel an intense desire to have all his teeth extracted. This is often a desire to "expiate guilt," says Dr. John Walsh, noted New Zealand dentist. "Teeth have a symbolic significance to people of all ages. The child who bites her fingernails is likely to grind her teeth in later life; a child who sucks his thumb as a boy may suck a pipe in later life." And "many people actually want their teeth out because they feel guilty — and the teeth represent the guilt."

Dr. Walsh cited the case of a bride-to-be who begged him to extract all her teeth before marriage. After probing, he found she had had an illegitimate child three years earlier. She had visited the dentist at that time for a toothache and had been warned of the dangers of diseased teeth to the unborn child.

"The unfortunate girl wanted to get rid of her guilt before her marriage. Her teeth were a symbol of this guilt.

"It is not sufficiently realized," he added, "that the mouth is the seat of the most primitive emotions, the first part of the human body to win a place in consciousness, and as a result it is often the outlet for the frustrations of adult life . . . Our mouths are the seat of primitive desires, satisfactions and instincts . . ."

So when something hurts in the psyche, it's quite likely to come to the fore as a toothache.

Detention Camps In America?

Some observers view the current black militant-white radical war on the establishment in general and college administrations in particular as a far worse phenomenon than the McCarthyite right oppression of leftists in the early 1950s, and they are probably correct in their judgment.

But the current unrest is so charged with emotion that it can breed scary thoughts in the minds of supposedly responsible people. This type of overreaction is dangerous and we can only hope that the thoughts go unheeded.

A case in point is Richard Kleindienst, former Goldwater political aide who is now No. 2 man in the U.S. Department of Justice. Although he claims he was quoted out of context, Kleindienst was quoted in the current issue of Atlantic Magazine as saying, "If people demonstrated in a manner to interfere with others, they should be rounded up and put in a detention camp."

The deputy attorney general said he would "encourage students to probe and seek, up to the time they would close down the institutions which give them freedom of expression. If you can show a concerted form of activity of a subversive nature where people similarly inclined spread throughout the country to fan this, then it becomes the role of the federal government to suppress that form of subversive activity." That suppression, he suggests, is putting the dissidents in detention camps.

We agree that the attempt by radicals to close down institutions which guarantee freedom of expression is tragic and irrational, but it would be more so if policymakers in the Justice Department decide they should define subversion in their own terms and seek to lock up those who advocate unpopular causes.

Industry And Poverty

As the academic year quickly comes to another end, business and industry are reported anxious to hire a certain kind of graduate. Specifically, they want the well educated black graduate. Thousands of jobs are reportedly available for the 100 blacks who will earn master's degrees by the end of the current school year.

But the industries and businesses have been told that this is not the answer to the racial problem. The racial problem is largely a problem of poverty and that involves the thousands of people living in the ghettos, not just a few highly educated blacks.

The point is that business and industry cannot solve the problem by hiring those few educated people. Rather, it must seek to provide the means by which this small core of educated blacks can be the motivating force behind improved conditions for all the residents of the nation's ghettos.

Just exactly how this can be accomplished is no easy matter to ascertain. If business and industry are interested in solving the problem, they are going to have to invest in enterprises that will train and advance the impoverished members of our society.

This means they will have to risk something, put something on the line in the hope that it will produce results. Only when this is done will there be any hope that the problem of the black race will eventually be solved and they will have a full share in the economy of the nation, graduating not just 100 masters, but producing trained people all along the economic scale.

TVA Proves Itself Over Chronic Opposition; Presents Continued Progress In New Fields

DECATUR, Ala. — A big piece of the excitement at the start of a new administration 33 years ago was the Tennessee Valley Authority, which under the tutelage of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Sen. George Norris began the rehabilitation of a region plagued by all the ills of poverty.

Today most Americans take TVA for granted as a piece of political archaeology out of the New Deal Age. A job finished that can be put away in the files.

A tour of the region shows it to be very much alive and expanding, performing services for the seven states, with beneficial consequences for most of the rest of the country and with an impact on every part of the world. It is America's outstanding example of what can be done in a partnership between government and private enterprise, which is why each year some 600 foreign visitors come to study this successful adventure in planning for a whole region and its river system.

TVA, at its inception as a New Deal agency, was regarded by Republicans as a diabolical device to inflict socialism on the nation. They fought it tooth and toenail in Congress and the courts.

When Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower became president in 1953, he cherished the conviction that this experiment in socialism, as he saw it, must somehow be restrained. He appointed another retired general, Herbert D. Vogel, to be one of TVA's three directors. But Vogel, after a thorough examination of the authority and its works, became more Catholic than the Pope — that is, more pro-TVA than some of the Democratic appointees to the board. This is said to have been a deep disappointment to the first Republican to occupy the White House in 20 years.

Now TVA is subject to the ministrations of a second Republican President. In the interval, however, a lot has changed and TVA's status in the valley, if not also in the nation, is stronger than ever. That was evident during Richard M. Nixon's campaign in Tennessee last September.

He was accompanied by Sen. Howard Baker of that state, a Republican, who is one of TVA's staunch allies. After uttering some kind words for the transformation TVA has worked, candidate Nixon at Chickamauga Dam had an hour's briefing by Chairman A. J. Wagner of TVA's board. Demonstrating one of his conspicuous talents, the ability to listen and learn, Nixon asked Wagner this question:

"Do you think that TVA could be helpful in furthering the effort to control air and water pollution?"

With more extensive practical work as well as research on water pollution than any other agency in the country and with extensive studies in air pollution growing out of TVA's own steam plants, this is just what TVA is doing today. A close relationship has been established with the Federal Air Pollution Center, and TVA is carrying out studies for the center.

At the National Fertilizer Development Center in nearby Muscle Shoals, the partnership between government and private enterprise is seen in its most-flourishing form. Growing out of the original commitment to create nitrates for soil improvement, the center has developed new and far more potent fertilizers. The latest is urea-ammonium phosphate, which in the basis of extensive tests promising dramatic increases in food production.

Each new development is patented by TVA and then the process is made available to commercial companies free of charge. At the center's annual conference detailing the latest progress, each major fertilizer company and at least 20 foreign governments are represented. In every corner of the globe, TVA fertilizers are spurring on the fight against hunger with more bountiful crops.

The late Gordon Clapp, one of TVA's most effective chairmen, once said, "If you're consequential, you're controversial." TVA would not be TVA without a lusty scrap in Congress relating to progress. The latest has been touched off by conservationalists — preservationalists might be a more accurate word — accusing the authority of spoiling the landscape for yet another dam.

No less an old-time New Dealer than Justice William O. Douglas has ridden into the lists to charge that, by building a dam on the Little Tennessee, TVA is ruining one of the nation's finest trout streams, desecrating what were many years ago the happy hunting grounds of the Cherokee Indians and blotting out a fine piece of scenery.

Chairman Wagner replies for TVA that the lake to be created in the valley of the Little Tennessee will have its own beauty and, far more important, the development will provide employment and an attractive way of life for several thousand families who now have a marginal life.

Library Efforts

Lincoln, Neb.

This is a reply to Mrs. Stoddard's letter of April 23 about better libraries.

Mrs. Stoddard's insightful and informed analysis of library needs in the city of Lincoln and the suggestions made deserve careful analysis, for the intent of the Library Board is always to be responsive to citizen concerns and creative development of library services for the entire community.

With a continuously growing community, the facilities built more than 50 years ago have become totally inadequate in space for readers, for books, for work, and are deteriorated and outdated. It is impossible to modernize and provide good service in these units.

At the same time, many new areas are totally without library units within reasonable walking distance. But to accomplish this, to reach every area, would require some 32 units based on a comparison with the number of grade school locations. The board has considered alternatives such as temporary units and bookmobiles and will continue to innovate and reach out to serve unserved areas. The example in Belmont is but an instance.

The Library Board will continue to strive in our goal of better libraries for a better Lincoln.

Charter Amendment

Lincoln, Neb.

In my opinion, your editorial, "Costly Pay Limitation" in The Star of April 26 is an excellent statement of the reasons for voting "yes" on the proposed charter amendment to eliminate the requirement that the mayor be the highest paid city employe.

Competition is keen for technically trained men. The city must meet this competition, or be satisfied with less qualified men, so a charter limitation such as now exists will handicap the city in its future growth and quality of service.

My thanks for bringing this important amendment to our attention.

Sin And Crime

Lincoln, Neb.

"Crime" is a nasty word. But isn't it a trifle unfair always to blame discrepancies on the Mafia or gangsterism? Sometimes it's the discrepancy in law and local citizenry that breeds malformations and unfair business and political practices that eventually snowball into wholesale unlawful procedures that once were labeled hoodlum antics, bribery and deceit.

Sometimes business must go underground to survive. From grade school to senior citizens, there prevails a clique from sawing schoolyard swings to suburban customs over the back fence, and society ranges from innocent bridge clubs to shocking sex, political and business corruption.

A simple pickpocket or prostitute hasn't a chance in this new order. "Bonnie and Clyde" is like playing cowboy and Indians, because society prefers walking on the cracks instead of the sidewalk.

The Bible speaks of "The Mark of the Beast" when none can either buy or sell. I doubt if racketeering is the only organization guilty of sin. And where does sin stop and crime begin?

LUCILLE PATTERSON

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I understand that some people have reaction to penicillin. What type of reaction can one expect? What actually takes place in the body's system? Would it be safe to take penicillin again? —H.G.

You understand correctly. Some people do have penicillin reactions, but some folks also have reactions to other drugs — aspirin, barbiturates, iodides, the oral drugs for diabetes, various sulfas all are known to cause reactions in some individuals. And that doesn't exhaust the list.

Penicillin has been mentiosed quite frequently, in part just because it is a very useful drug and much of it is used in a year. A great many people are given penicillin, millions, and among those millions some will be hypersensitive to it.

You shouldn't "expect" a reaction just because you are given penicillin. Only a minority of folks have such sensitivity — but once a person has a reaction from that drug, he shouldn't take any more of it.

Reactions include such things as hives, diffuse rash, swelling of the lymph glands, fever, sometimes others. In some instances the patient may go into shock, and one can never know when such a serious reaction may occur in a susceptible individual.

Treatment consists of stopping the medication, of course; use of antihistamines for the milder symptoms, epinephrine in more severe ones, and in some cases use of steroid (cortisone-type) drugs by mouth or by injection.

As to what actually takes place in the body when a reaction occurs, detailed studies have been made, yet the exact mechanism is not yet clear. Though some of the symptoms resemble those of allergy, it has not been possible to show that certain antibody formations, which are typical of allergy, occur in drug reactions. So we call it drug sensitivity — which is a good name for it — without being able to say exactly how it works in the body.

Keep in mind that a reaction does not occur with the first use of a drug. The patient must become "sensitized," and the reactions come on later exposures.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have heard there is a treatment for arthritis called gold shots. Can you tell me anything about it? Are there side effects? I had to give up cortisone because I was bloating so badly.—Mrs. M.C.

The use of gold shots (injection of salts which are gold compounds) is not new. It is employed with rheumatoid arthritis. This method was to a considerable extent abandoned for a time, but now is being used in selected cases.

The treatment is most effective when used early in the disease. It could be worth considering in your case — if your doctor concurs.

Yes, there are toxic effects — side effects, if you prefer — that must be watched carefully. These are kidney irritations, skin eruptions, blood disturbances. Urine and blood must be checked frequently.

The treatment is not used on a continuing basis, but only for a limited time.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We have two children who want a kitten, but after reading about "cat scratch fever," I feel a little different. Could we take any precaution? Would it help to have the cat de-clawed?—Mrs. G. B.

Well, cat scratch fever does exist, but I think you are taking it too seriously. Plenty of people have had plenty of kittens as pets and never had cat scratch fever. The virus may be present on claws, but then again it may not.

I defer to veterinarians as to whether it is wise, or fair to the kittens, to clip the claws.

I will say this, though. It's usually the cat (or kitten) that is being mauled, or held too tight, or otherwise annoyed which is most likely to scratch. There can be accidents, but in general the contented, happy house cat isn't going to scratch. And after a few months, even a kitten usually learns how to play and not scratch.

Note to M.P.: Tonsil operations certainly do not harm the reproductive system; your doctor recommends removal in your case, so go ahead and follow his advice.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Crafty Retiree Entertains Neighbor When Coast Is Clear

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q.—"If you're interested in geriatric amours let me tell you about a couple in our building. He's a retired electrician, 68, and never goes anywhere. But he encourages his wife to go places and always wants to know where she's going and the phone number so he can call if he gets 'lonesome.' I have been at two or three events where his wife got a call from him and everyone crooned how romantic it was. Naturally she's crazy about him. Quite by chance I've learned he's got a birdie in the next building. When he's absolutely sure of his wife's whereabouts he whistles and his birdie nips over to spend an hour with him. Isn't this the slickest trick of the week, and should I disillusion his adoring wife by telling all?"

A.—It's slick all right and proves that sexagenarians can be just as crafty in matters of romance as youngsters. Keep this juicy morsel to yourself, since no member of your family is involved and it's really none of your business. Maybe his wife will find out later. No need to have it on your conscience that you shattered a trusting wife's illusion.

Q. — "Our old family house was torn down for the new highway so Mom and Dad put 14 rooms of furniture in storage and moved to a three-room apartment. They're sentimental about their old things and say they're looking for another house like the old one. But eight years have passed. They're in their early 70s, have just $365 monthly, and must shell out $50 monthly storage. Shouldn't I insist they sell that old furniture and resign themselves to staying put?"

A. — Try to persuade them in this direction, but if they're still competent let them make their own decisions.

Q. — "I've never had any trouble with my heart — never felt a twitch. But last year a friend died of a heart attack and for two weeks I felt chest pains. Then last week I read about a chap my age dying of heart trouble and sure enough the pains started again. What's happening?"

A — Sounds as if you're a sensitive soul subject to "sympathetic symptoms." Physicians often encounter this phenomenon in which folks have simulated pains similar to those they imagine were experienced by victims. Chances are there's nothing wrong, but to relieve your mind go to a specialist and have your ticker checked.

If you would like a booklet, "Avoiding a Heart Attack," write to Robert Peterson, c/o Dispatch Letter Service, 25 W. 45th St., New York, N.Y., 10036, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

COLOR

A new dimension in cooking satisfaction:

gas models, styles and colors to suit every taste.

You've been waiting all day for the delivery truck.
Now it's here and you've just had your first peek. It's beautiful. The color goes perfectly with the cabinets and the walls.
How that beautiful new gas range brightens up the kitchen. Finishes it.
Makes it complete and sets it off from the other kitchens in the neighborhood.
And the features! What to try first.
The new keep-warm hood, or the eye-level oven, the burner-with-a-brain,
the self-cleaning oven,
the programmed cooking or what?
Well, how 'bout dinner? A big one.
Tonight. He'll love it. And you.
(Feeling envious and just a little left out?
Go see your gas appliance dealer or your gas company and sigh over the new gas ranges.
Maybe it'll help. A little.)

A new wing at Tabitha

A new home for Madonna

What Lincoln gets for a $500,000 Community Investment

1. Two brand new nursing home facilities worth $3,650,000 at no further public expense.
2. Two hundred eighty (280) new skilled nursing beds meeting all health and care standards.
3. Taxpayer savings. Maximum care cost for county welfare patients is $300/per month – even for those needing round-the-clock nursing care.
   Charitable funds make up for operating losses on welfare cases.
4. Lower rates for all patients. Cost of care exceeds rates charged every patient. Church related charitable funds make up the difference.

We flew across the country on American's flight 47. From spring in San Francisco to spring in little old New York. A blue sky day and leggy stewardesses in red, white and blue miniskirts.

It is not spring all over. A blowy snowstorm was drifting across the Continental Divide and patches of snow lay on the mountains. Seven miles up you can look down on the Great Plains, the winding rivers.

"Let your horses or oxen rest on Sunday," wrote my great-grandfather when he crossed here in 1850. "For they will make up in six days more than you can travel in seven."

It took him four months. From Terre Haute, Indiana to Webberville, a long gone gold town in the California Mother Lode.

The multi-million dollar a day airline business is full of competition. And the new thing in America is the "American Look". Gingham aprons like grandma used to wear. (My grandma would have been starchy about the costume. But things have changed.)

The chief stewardess wears a coonstkin cap on takeoff and landing.

It's not the food Daniel Boone was used to though.

Prime rib roast is electrically carved at your seat, and there's a choice of several wines.

The seats, drapes, all cabin decor have been redone in Early American. It was a $1.2 million decorating job.

"And the captain is Manny Mantooth. He's part Cherokee," said the stewardess.

"Now wait a minute!" I said.

"No really," she said. "They call him 'Big Chief'."

"Fetch the gin, girl," I said. "It's too much."

Ah, it's spring in the Big Town. "Do you ever miss San Francisco?" I asked once of Rube Goldberg, the famous cartoonist. He was in his seventies.

"No," he said. "New York is ringside."

There's new life in New York in spring. The subways pouring out a crowd of bright young men in search of fame. Tall, leggy girls in miniskirt — no doubt in search of bright young men.

Tall girls are in now in New York. Shorties are out. "If a girl is under five foot eight, you may as well take in wash or start raising a family in the Bronx," said a TV man at lunch at P.J. Moriarty's on 54th. "She'll never make it on the big time."

It's a spending town. Everybody unloads dollars as if the East Coast, not the West, was due for the earthquake.

Luncheon tabs are stiff. The 15% tip has gone the way of the nickel phone call.

"If you drop less than 20%, the waiter'll spit in your eye," said the TV man. "And if you're still thinking of quarter tips for bellboys, forget it before they trip you in the hall way. Where you're staying, make it a buck everytime they pass the ice."

We stay at the elegant Regency. Park Avenue. Fashionable dog walking services walk fashionable dogs along the avenue. Good looking girls in miniskirts with "Arthur's Dogwalking Service" on their sweatshirts.

Sleek boxers pull at the leash, straining at silvered choke collars.

They know all the grandly uniformed doormen. They are New York dogs. Walking the avenue, paying no attention to the rush of traffic or the blast of the doorman's taxi whistle.

It's a rich life.

This is the town where the taxi driver calls you Mac. Gives you the course he is about to set — "I'm gonna take you down Fift' to Fawty-second, see? Dis tima day, we gonna get too much traffic on Pock."

We used to tip taxis a quarter. But now —. I gave him a half. "T'anks, Mac," he said. "See you anudder time." So I know it must be Spring.

All-State Course To Start June 8 On NU Campus

High school students looking for something interesting to do this summer may find the University of Nebraska's All-State High School Course appealing.

More than 10,000 Nebraskans have participated in it during the past 34 years and the 1969 program has been designed as "something special" since it is the university's centennial year.

All-State will be held from June 8 to June 26 and applications must be in to the All-State office, Westbrook Music Building, 11th and R Streets, Lincoln, Nebraska 68508, by My 10.

All-State provides an opportunity for Nebraska high schoolers to meet 400 other young musicians, debaters, actors, artists and journalists while getting a taste of college life and working with faculty members of the University of Nebraska.

No. Omahans Want 72nd St. Placed Under State Control

By Associated Press

North Omaha business interests Monday asked the State Highway Advisory Commission to consider placing on the state highway system a 15.1 mile segment of 72nd St. between Interstate Highway 80 and Fort Calhoun.

Representing the North Omaha Commercial Club and the North by Northwest Development Council, Irving Hansen noted the route would join Omaha with the new industrial area near Blair where a nuclear power plant is under construction.

"I don' believe there's a piece of highway that would benefit so many people so much," Hansen said.

Commissioner Robert O'Keefe of Omaha estimated the cost of taking over the highway would be $10 million.

Also aired during the commission's monthly meeting was a Franklin County dispute over the proposed relocation of Nebraska 4 from Ragan east to Nebraska 10.

One faction urges the existing route be improved while the other endorses a northern route just south of Wilcox and running through Hildreth.

Commissioner Thane Davis of Hyannis assured both sides that all four routes which have been proposed would be taken into consideration.

A group from Lawrence requested the department build a 10-mile spur from Lawrence south and east to Montclair. The road would be parallel to Nebraska 78 which is located four miles west of Lawrence.

A delegation from the area told the commission the lack of hard-surfaced pavement caused a high rate of absenteeism at schools during the winter and hindered the transportation of supplies to homes along the proposed spur.

The department also announced that Lester J. Henderson has been named hearing officer to explain the department's position on tters t o local subdivisions. various road matters to local subdivisions.

Henderson has been a consulting engineer for the last four years after a 20-year stint with the U.S. Corp of Engineers.

Final Arguments In School Aid Lawsuit Slated

Closing arguments in the school aid lawsuit brought by the Omaha School District are set for Wednesday before Lancaster District Judge William Hastings.

Testimony was concluded Monday in the case, in which Omaha seeks a reversal of a State Board of Education order denying the district its application for waiver of the so-called "Section 12 Limitation" of the state aid law.

By such waiver, under the School Foundation and Equalization Act passed by the 1967 Legislature, the district would be entitled to receive the amount over and above the 8% maximum limitation.

Omaha concluded its evidence Monday with testimony by Don Warner, assistant superintendent in charge of pupil personnel services, concerning special education programs for the educable mentally handicapped and trainable mentally handicapped children.

Dr. Wilbur Schindler, chief of statistical services for the State Department of Education, testified for the state concerning the forms provided for obtaining state aid under provisions of LB448 of the 1967 Legislature.

Bill To Expand Pen Print Shop Use Draws Fire

Printing firm representatives, printers and organized labor joined Monday in opposing a bill to broaden the outlet for products of the State Penitentiary's print shop, and the Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee responded by killing the bill on a 5-2 vote.

The Little Hoover Commission measure, LB1105, was advocated as a means of giving more business to the prison industries print shop at the penal complex, thereby providing work, vocational training and rehabilitative benefits to more inmates.

Dick Mahon of Omaha, Little Hoover Commission member, said at least 25 different state agencies apart from the University of Nebraska have printing and duplication facilities of their own. Calling upon the prison industries shop to do more of the work would not curtail the business which commercial printers do with the state, he maintained.

Objectors said the bill as drawn goes beyond the stated intent and would provide unfair competition with private enterprise.

March Cut Short

Manila (UPI) —Filipino farmers cut short a protest march after four miles when President Ferdinand E. Marcos met them in a helicopter and promised personally to seek the land reforms they demanded. The farmers had planned to march 75 miles to Marcos' presidential palace in Manila.

Amendment To Expand Regents' Powers Held

A constitutional amendment proposing an appointed Board of Regents to govern both the University of Nebraska and the four state colleges was heard without action Monday by the Legislature's Education Committee.

LB1115, sponsored by the Governor's Little Hoover Commission, was opposed by State Colleges Coordinator John Gustad.

Gar Donnelson of the Little Hoover Commission said placement of the four colleges at Peru, Chadron, Wayne and Kearney and the university under a "single governing board would eliminate the competition for state funds and some of the colleges for university status."

"The commission's desire is the most effective use of the tax dollar," he said. "An appointed board would attract members able to grasp long-term educational concepts rather than those able to win popularity contests."

However, Gustad said both the university regents and the state colleges board presently have their hands full with their present responsibilities.

"There would be no need for the Nebraska Coordinating Council on Higher Education (proposed by LB205) if the state's higher education institutions were put under a single governing board," he said.

Also heard was another Little Hoover Commission bill (LB1114) that would provide for a State Board of Junior Colleges, which would also assume the duties of the state board of vocational technical education.

The commission also proposed the repeal of 1967 legislation that would permit the University of Nebraska to acquire existing junior colleges.

It was LB1113 would forestall such a junior college merger until a comprehensive state plan is developed.

Bill To Authorize Wiretaps Stranded

By United Press International

A bill to authorize the use of wiretaps in Nebraska was stranded in the Unicameral's Judiciary Committee Monday when the members failed to agree on whether this crime fighting tool is needed.

LB968 was held for later action when a motion to kill it ended in a 4-4 tie and a motion to send it to the floor received a 4-3 vote. Five votes were needed to kill it or advance it.

Sent to the floor on an 8-0 count was LB1346 to create a state law enforcement training center and require all police officers in Nebraska to attend it.

The wiretap bill was supported by Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer and Omaha Police Chief Richard Andersen. It is sponsored by State Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha.

The only opposition voiced against it came from Alan Plessman of Lincoln, a representative of the Nebraska Civil Liberties Union.

Andersen said that while there is no serious organized crime in Nebraska, the primary target of wiretaps, the "specter of it is hanging over our heads."

He said the use of wiretaps is an effective tool in the war against crime and that under the bill it would be an instrument whose use would be severely restricted by the courts.

Plessman told the committee the use of wiretaps would trespass on the individual's right to privacy. He said the crime problem needs to be dealt with quickly but that wiretapping is not the way to do it.

Meyer disagreed. He said the individual's privacy would be protected because only the courts could authorize the use of wiretaps.

"This isn't a blank check for wiretapping or eavesdropping," he said. "It is a tool which will seldom be used and then only under the strict control of the courts."

The law enforcement training center bill was sent to the floor after State Sens. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and Roland Luedtke of Lincoln assailed the Nebraska Sheriff's Association for helping to have a similar measure killed in the 1967 Legislature.

Carpenter said the sheriffs' friction with the State Patrol was the primary reason for defeat of the other bill two years ago.

"As far as I'm concerned we're going to butt your heads together to get you to agree on it this time," he said. "I don't want it killed again.

"And as far as I'm concerned if we didn't have the State Patrol we wouldn't, have law enforcement in Nebraska."

Banking Committee

The Legislatures' Banking Committee Monday killed a bill which would have required proof of financial responsibility before any motor vehicle could be registered.

A 6-1 vote following a public hearing put to rest Callaway Sen. J. James Waldron's LB232.

A previously-heard bill, LB689, raising from two to five the number of banks in which a bank holding company could own or control one-fourth interest, was killed 5-2. The bill had been sponsored by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

A related Carpenter measure, LB819, which would have repealed the state's bank holding company act altogether, had been killed earlier.

ART—the Lindner exhibition

BY JOHN CANADAY
(c) New York Times Service

New York — Sadism, fetichism, prostitution, gangsterism, weight problems, zippers, the horse woman-horse relationship spiritual isolation on 42nd Street, the police blotter, Brecht, and Pomeranian dogs are among the themes detectable in the paradoxically beautiful art of Richard Lindner, an art in which, if you wish, you can also find the current end result of German expressionism fused with decorative-cubist devices, Pop art, Saul Steinberg (which came first, the chicken or the egg? No matter), 1920 vamps, 1930 glamour girls, 1969 miniskirts, and something that looks to me like old-time crayola combined with what I know to be watercolor. All of this in 13 new pictures by Lindner at Cordier and Ekstrom, a gallery at 980 Madison Avenue near 78th Street.

I am not at all sure that I am up to coping with the art of Lindner; I am only sure that it is awfully good, taking "awful" in its second dictionary definition as "terrifying; appalling." Terrifyingly appalling, but also delightfully good, a combination for which the dictionary offers no word.

Some years ago you could have said without oversimplifying too much that Lindner's style was synthesized from about equal parts of Max Beckmann in his large allegories and Leger's mechanistic conventionalizations. The Museum of Modern Art's "The Meeting," of 1953, would largely support this limited description, dominated as it is by one of those laced women with big, bare thighs setting off black garters, a favorite Beckmann motif but represented by Lindner in terms of Leger's symmetrical geometry and eventless paint surface. But the fascination of separating the component parts of Lindner's style, either in pictures from earlier years when it is so easy or in recent ones of greater complication, comes not from discovering the sources of his style but in the discovery that what his style is made of has little to do with what it is — nothing to do, really, since his art is altogether his own.

None of the Germanness of Lindner's art should be surprising since, after all, he was born in Germany in 1901 and studied and worked there until he was 32. Nor should any Frenchness, since in 1933 he fled to Paris and did not emigrate to New York until 1941. Rather, the surprising thing is that his work is so American, since his formative years were spent elsewhere. Part of the explanation is that Lindner, in his 60's, has shown (and never more dramatically than in this new work) that "formative" with him is only a relative term. He continues to grow, to increase in the power and the individuality of his expression. Another reason may be that in one of its aspects America during the last 10 years has offered subject matter parallel in spirit to that of Germany in the 1920's when Berlin was the international capital of that combination of violence, morbid sexuality, feverish energy and cancerous frustration called night life in a moribund culture.

So far as I know, Lindner has never painted a cabaret. For that matter, he seldom defines a locale. But our motorcycle gangs, our thugs, our population of dope addicts, our muggings, beatings and burnings, our parade of freaks, whores, and obscenities of all kinds — all these are parts of the apocalyptic honkytonk that has taken over the New York streets.

Lindner is, however, not "an observer of the contemporary scene," but an artist who finds in the bizarre ugliness of its protagonists his material for the creation of symbols of the 20th Century's desperation.

His men and women seem to be mutually predatory sexual brigands, yet some universal depersonalizing force has reduced their lust and its satisfaction to a set of nerveless mechanized observances. These people are remarkably devoid of allure even while aggressively endowed with every physical attribute of voracious sexuality and further equipped with the accouterments of titillation, including perversions. Their expression is a single, straight-mouthed, stone-faced blankness, lifeless except where slits of eyes, reflecting no passion and no desire, glitter in conditioned reflex to the sight of a sexual object. The symptom is there, but not the condition. The condition is one of emotional paralysis. And the effect — unless you, too, have been brutalized beyond response —is both sinister and pathetic.

MISS BEVERLY KAY STEVENS

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stevens of Amarillo, Tex., of the engagement of their daughter, Beverly Kay, to Dean William Ditterner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ardie Ditterner of Mankato, Minn.

The wedding will take place on Sunday, Aug. 10, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the College View Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Miss Stevens is attending Union College from where her fiance was graduated, and where he now is on the staff of the Union College Computer Center.

Program

A program of special interest will be presented for the members of the Ceres Club at 9:30 o'clock, Thursday morning, at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

The program, "The Land and The Book", will be given by Harold Gilman, professor of agronomy at the University of Nebraska, who will show travel slides of Nebraska accompanied by appropriate Bible verses.

Evening Ceremony

Bouquets of white and pink snapdragons appointed the altar of Havelock Methodist Church, Saturday evening, April 26, for the wedding of Miss Barbara Ann Bomberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar E. Bomberger, and Philip Allen Brown, II, son of Mrs. Philip A. Brown and the late Mr. Brown. The 7 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. Albert Gray, and Mrs. Chet Slaughter, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Mary Gray, the vocal soloist.

Velvet ribbon sashed the blue chiffon-over-taffeta frocks of Miss Debra Hulbert, the honor attendant; Miss Lynne Nevin and Miss Linda Hall, the bridesmaids; and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Carol Bomberger. They carried nosegays of pink gladioli florets.

John Brown served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Michael Bomberger and Mike Loos. The groomsmen were Tom Ochsner, James Herstein and George Mills.

Chantilly lace in traditional white smoothed over satin fashioned the bride's gown, which was designed in the skimmer silhouette. A petit bow marked the high waistline of the long-sleeved basque, and natural scallops of the lace edged the slender skirt which continued into a cotillion train. Her silk illusion veil was held by a princess crown of pearl-embroidered lace, and she carried a cascade of pink and white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make their home at 4914 Cleveland.

Courtesies

The bridal courtesies are continuing for Miss Jean Rolofson, whose marriage to Richard R. Gartner, Jr., will be solemnized on Saturday, May 10.

Next Sunday afternoon, the bride-to-be will be presented a miscellaneous shower by Alpha Omicron Pi sorority sisters at a party to be given by Mrs. Harlån Fenske of Omaha, Mrs. Donald Peterson of Wayne, and Mrs. Dennis Stelzer of Orange Calif., at the home of Mrs. Peterson's aunt, Mrs. R. M. Fenemore.

Miss Rolofson and her fiance will be honored on Friday evening, May 9, when Mr. Gartner's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Richard R. Gartner of Beatrice, will be host and hostess at dinner at the Elks Club.

For the wedding, the bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle A. Rolofson, has named Mrs. Dennis Stelzer of Orange, Calif., as her honor attendant. Her bridesmaids will be Miss Sandra Bernhard, Shelton; Miss Suzanne Fay, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Lyle Rolofson, Jr., West Long Branch, N.J.; and Mrs. Arthur Paben, Beatrice, sister of Mr. Gartner.

Miss Sarabeth Fay, Memphis, Tenn., and Miss Patricia Paben, Beatrice, will attend Miss Rolofson as flower girls, and lighting the chancel candles for the 4:30 o'clock service, to be solemnized at Trinity United Methodist Church, will be Miss Kathi Arthur and Miss Linda Gibbs, both of Omaha.

George Schlothauer of Scottsbluff, will serve Mr. Gartner as best man, and the groomsmen and ushers will include Capt. Lyle A. Rolofson, Jr., West Long Branch, N.J., brother of the bride-to-be; Donald Gartner, Norfolk; Robert Fulton, Omaha; Art Paben, Joel Fanders and Ray Muehling, Beatrice; Leland Hoepfinger and Raymond Kent Banta. The ringbearer will be Tim Dougherty.

A bride-to-be of late spring who is being honored at numerous courtesies preceding her wedding is Miss Ann Smiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Smiley, who will become the bride of James Paulson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paulson of Valley, on Saturday, May 24.

A kitchen shower was presented to the University of Nebraska coed on Saturday, Arpil 19, when Mrs. Dale Bush and her daughter, Miss Donna Bush, entertained at a morning coffee at their home.

Miss Smiley also has been honored at several bridal showers recently in Valley, where friends of her fiance's mother have entertained informally.

The wedding of Miss Smiley and Mr. Paulson will take place at a 4 o'clock afternoon service, at Eastridge Presbyterian Church.

MISS MARGARET ANN LIVERS

Of much more than casual interest to Lincoln this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Al G. Livers of Gainesville, Fla., who reveal the betrothal of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to Thomas D. Henrion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Henrion of Lincoln.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Aug. 30.

Miss Livers was graduated last year from the University of Evansville, Evansville, Ind., where she majored in secondary education, and where she also received a Bachelor of Science degree in personnel. She will receive her Master's degree in Psychometrics from Indiana University in August. The bride-elect is a member of Phi Mu sorority, and of Psi Chi, psychology honorary.

Mr. Henrion is a graduate of the University of Nebraska from where he also received his Master's degree in economics. His fraternity is Phi Kappa Psi and he is a member of Omicron Delta Epsilon and Pi Gamma Mu honoraries. Mr. Henrion who has been an instructor of economics at the University of Evansville during the past two years, will enter the Doctoral program in International Economics at the University of Chicago in September.

Theater Homeless In Boston

BY CLIVE BARNES
(c) New York Times Service

New York — Do you remember, years ago in some edition of "New Faces," Alice Ghostley singing "The Boston Beguine"? A sad ballad of thwarted love, it began, I recall, with the words "it happened in Boston . . ." On more than one occasion since then, it has occurred to me that very little does happen in Boston. Harvard, of course, has become a different matter.

Last weekend I went to Boston to see what conceivably might be the final performance of the Boston Ballet. With a bit of luck this particular disaster will be averted, but other hazards will soon be on their way. All our performing arts institutions are facing hard times. Atlanta, for example, which only last year opened its Arts Center with such a flourish and such sensible hopes, failed to maintain its promises. The wind of trouble is blowing in fitful gusts even through the elegant plaza of Lincoln Center, and many of our best theaters are crawling along gallantly overhopeful, miserably underfinanced.

The Boston Ballet was formed in 1963, by virtually the direct intervention of the Ford Foundation. Like the Pennsylvania Ballet and one or two others, it was one of Ford's babies and, in these instances, the Foundation proved a pretty perceptive midwife. The company has had a very tough life during the five and a half years of its existence. Although it has produced something like 40 ballets — most of them judiciously selected revivals — it has never had a permanent home. Also, it has had to build up its company very slowly, very often using guest artists in principal roles, rather as might an emerging opera company. But finally it has had to cope with the artistic inertia of Boston and Boston businessmen. Boston itself could try harder.

The other week the Theater Company of Boston came to New York's off Broadway and was thrilling with its standard of acting and staging. But does Boston really care? And now we have the case of the Boston Ballet — in desperate straits, perhaps going down for the third and last time. Will Boston save it?

The financial problems encountered by the Boston Ballet seem to be neither those caused by business mismanagement nor artistic inadequacy. They simply do not have enough money to make their proper way in the world. The company has survived solely through the Ford Foundation. And the Foundation cannot do everything — especially where strong local support is lacking.

At the beginning of this season the company's fortunes appeared to have hit rock bottom. The Foundation dickered over whether to renew its grant in some form — understandably so, in view of the local response — and the theater in which it had been playing, the Back Bay Theater, was demolished to make room for one of the car-parks for which Boston is fast becoming famous.

Will the company survive? First, should it? It has created no notable new works, its repertory is fairly conservative and it has always relied fairly heavily on stars from New York to give its local Bostonians more glamor and even more skill. Should it last? I think so. I believe the company is moving slowly but is still doing a very good job. Its early dependence on guest stars is being broken, and its repertory is nicely balanced.

Book Review

A review of Edna Ferber's, "A Kind of Magic," was given by Mrs. Richard Vestecka, Friday evening, for the members of the Nebraska Alpha Chapter, Delta Theta Chi cultural sorority, which met at the home of Mrs. Vestecka.

Introduced as a new member of the chapter was Miss Dorothea Heckman.

Other Lincoln auxiliary members assisting with the convention are Mrs. Paul Deines, Mrs. M. C. Peterson, Mrs. Kenneth Christensen, Mrs. Darrell Morland, Mr. L. D. Arnot, Mrs. Robert Brockley, Mrs. Duane Hunt, Mrs. F. A. Pierson, Jr., Mrs. Harold Demaree, Mrs. William Kramer, Mrs. Robert Aarvig and Mrs. Richard Bradley.

Alliance

The May meeting of the Phi Delta Theta Alliance will be held Friday, May 2, when the members will meet for a noon luncheon at the Arthur Weaver cabin near Nebraska City.

Spring Makeover

Don't let summer catch you with the birds singing and your zippers springing or the flowers blooming and your pounds zooming. Better get ready for summer clothes, swim suits, and that vacation when you will want to look your best!

You can lose from 5 to 10 pounds in the next nine days if you follow my Nine Day Diet which is now appearing in this column. Do not be discouraged by the thought that you will have to plan two sets of meals, one for your family and one for you. My Nine Day Diet is an excellent one for the family, with a few additions. Look at tomorrow's menus.

The family can add eggs, bacon, butter, jelly, cream and sugar (in coffee) to breakfast. At lunch they can have whole milk instead of skim milk, gravy on the lamb and two rolls with butter and preserves. At dinner add a baked potato, whole milk rather than skim, bread and butter and any dessert they wish. The family can also have a bedtime snack. None of these additions add up to extra work for you.

These are the menus for tomorrow.

BREAKFAST

One-half grapefruit
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast
Black coffee

MID MORNING

Glass of skimmed milk or buttermilk

LUNCHEON

One poached egg
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast
One-half cup broccoli
One glass skimmed milk

DINNER

Two crisp raw carrots
Baked fish (medium portion)
One-half cup green peas
Shredded lettuce salad (lemon dressing)
Fresh fruit cup

If you missed the menus yesterday or would like to have the "Nine Day Diet" in a small booklet send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Lincoln Star.

Speaker

Guest speaker at the May meeting of St. Leger Cowley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to be held Tuesday evening, May 6, at the Union Loan and Savings community room, will be Lila Gravatt Scrimsher, former faculty member at Lincoln High School and past librarian at the University Place Library.

Hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Harry Smith, assisted by Mrs. Ben Hitch, Mrs. E. A. Wing and Mrs. Peter Alexander.

Abby: tell her right now

DEAR ABBY: A dear friend of mine is a very attractive, young divorcee with two small children. Lately she's been spending her weekends out of town with her boss, who is married.

Here's the problem: She has been leaving her children at her mother's on weekends, and telling her mother that she's spending the weekend with my husband and me.

I realize this is wrong. My husband says he has covered up for her for the last time, and if I don't tell her she can no longer use us as a cover-up, HE will tell her.

I can't tell her, Abby. It would be like the pot calling the kettle "black" because before I got married I was no better than she is. What should I do? A PAL

DEAR PAL: Your friend, "the kettle" could be brewing up an explosive mixture of evidence which could result in losing custody of her children, and bring much unhappiness to the family of her married boyfriend. You're not a "pot" anymore, so tell her, without sitting in judgment, that you'll no longer be a party to this game.

DEAR ABBY: My girl is absolutely perfect, except for one thing. She doesn't know how to dress.

This may not seem like such a big thing to you, but it's important to me. She's not sloppy or anything like that, but some of the outfits she comes up with are awful. It's not that she can't afford to dress better either, as she has a good-paying job and spends a lot for her clothes. I don't want to hurt her feelings, but how can I let her know that some of her outfits really turn me off?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: If you can get one of her better-dressed girl friends to tip her off, fine. Otherwise in the most diplomatic words you can muster, you tell her. Girls want to please their boyfriends in the manner of ddress. And if you can't be that honest with her, you're not operating on the same wave length.

Opening lead — jack of diamonds.

This deal occurred in a rubber bridge game. South's bidding was somewhat strange, but, since the final contract was eminently sound and he made the slam, there is no need to labor the point.

West led the diamond jack and everything hinged on declarer's play to the first trick. Had he let the jack ride to the queen, East would have won with the king and returned a diamond to beat the contract right away.

But South recognized the danger inherent in the lead and climbed right up with the ace. Moreover, he was careful to drop the queen from his own hand — and it was only this doubly-careful combination of plays that permitted him to make the slam.

South next drew four rounds of trumps, cashed the A-Q of hearts and led a diamond to the 10-9. East could do no better than take his king and shift to a spade, but declarer went up with the ace, crossed to dummy with a diamond, and discarded two spades on the K-J of hearts to bring home twelve tricks.

Now let's suppose that South had not played the diamond queen on the ace. In that case he would have been defeated. He could not have cashed four heart tricks and he would have gone down at least one.

Thus, if he drew four rounds of trumps after following low on the ace of diamonds and then cashed the A-Q of hearts, he would make only ten tricks. It would not have been difficult for East to refuse the queen of diamonds when it was led, and South would have ended losing two spades and a diamond.

By dropping the queen on the opening lead, declarer assured himself of twelve tricks however the cards were divided. The unblock guaranteed a later diamond entry to dummy.

Announcing...
First National's Investment Service
...gives your $20,000 investment the million dollar treatment.

Until now, you may have thought professional investment advisory services were strictly "million dollar" affairs. Until now, that was roughly true.

But now, First National offers the services of our top professional investment management staff to Nebraska residents wishing to invest $20,000 or more. This is the very same staff that manages the many millions of dollars administered by our Trust Department.

These men, who devote their full time to analyzing the investment markets, base their investment decisions on a wealth of research material—much of which is available only to professional investment counselors.

Here's how First National's Investment Service operates

You can select one of two investment portfolio options. One is geared to long term capital growth. The other is designed to provide dividend income with reasonable market appreciation potential.

As a participant in our Investment Service, we first assist you in opening an account with a leading brokerage firm where stocks purchased for you will be kept in your name. Our staff then purchases for your portfolio a list of stocks that our analysts recommend most highly for the goal you have selected.

We will sell and re-invest as indicated by our research, without your having to become involved in the intricacies of the market. The brokerage firm will notify you of every transaction that is made, and will give you a monthly statement on the status of your account.

Keep in mind, as a participant in First National's Investment Service, you will have the services of highly skilled, professional investment managers and analysts directing your investment activities. May we put this talent to work for you?

If your investment goal is either long term growth or dividend income with reasonable market appreciation potential, fill in the coupon or call us at 477-4455 (Area Code 402).

Organizing, Bargaining Rights for Public Employes Approved

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Unicameral Monday approved legislation which guarantees all public employes the right to organize and bargain collectively, and to take any disputes to the Court of Industrial Relations.

The measure, LB15, passed on a 27-19 count, survived months of legislative consideration by the margin of two votes.

Its enactment was strenuously supported by the State AFL-CIO.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, chief sponsor of the bill, urged its passage as a means of heading off the possibility of future strikes by public employes.

Strikes Illegal

Such strikes would continue to be illegal, as they now are.

LB15 guarantees to all public employes the right to form and join employe organizations, and the right to be represented by them in collective bargaining with public employers over the terms and conditions of employment.

Affected are all governmental employers, including state, county and city government, and public power districts.

School districts would also come under the provisions of the act if teachers and school boards were unable to resolve disputes under the terms of a 1967 law which provides for teacher negotiation.

Employers are specifically authorized to recognize employe organizations, negotiate with them, and enter into written contracts.

Labor Court

Disputes would be resolved by an enlarged Court of Industrial Relations.

The court, which now has only three judges, would be expanded to a five-member body. And its limited jurisdiction — now restricted to power districts and municipal utilities — would be broadened to include all levels of government.

The court would be armed with the authority to appoint mediators and fact-finding boards to assist it in reaching final decisions.

Eliminated from present law is the proviso which limits the court, in establishing wage rates, to conform to prevailing rates within labor market areas of the state. That provision had recognized lower wages outside the Omaha area.

2-Year Contracts

LB15 also provides that any contracts with the state must be negotiated for a two-year period coinciding with the fiscal biennium, and be subject to approval by the Legislature.

Seventeen of the 18 senators who hail from Douglas or Lancaster County — all but Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha — voted in favor of the bill.

The vote on LB15:

For: Bloom, Carpenter, Carstens, Danner, Elrod, Keyes, Klaver, Knight, Luedtke, Mahoney, Marvel, Moulton, Moylan, Orme, Pedersen, Proud, Reynolds, Robinson, Schmit, Schreurs, Simpson, Skarda, Swanson, Syas, Waldo, Waldron, Warner.

Against: Adamson, Batchelder, Budd, Burbach, Clark, Craft, Duis, Harsh, Hasebroock, Holmquist, Johnson, Kennedy, Kokes, Stull, Wallwey, Wenzlaff, Whitney, Wiltse, Wylie.

Not Voting: Kremer, Nore, Ziebarth.

Tribute Is Paid To Edwin Schultz

The Nebraska Legislature Monday paid tribute to the memory of Edwin Schultz of Elgin, former state senator and former Nebraska State Fair manager who died Friday.

The resolution was introduced by Sen. William Wylie of Elgin.

Hospital Officials Set For Meeting

Middle management personnel of Nebraska's mental health system will take part in a study conference scheduled for Wednesday through Friday at the Nebraska Center in Lincoln.

Planned to help these unit chiefs and department chairmen acquire management knowledge and skills to effect optimum patient care, the conference is being sponsored by the Department of Institutions and the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration.

Legislature Postpones Discussion On Highway Bonds

The Legislature Monday wrestled briefly with the issue of highway bond financing, then decided to delay further discussion until senators were briefed by the Department of Roads.

Sen. Lester Harsh of McCook asked that the proposed initial bond issue of $20 million be reduced to $10 million, and Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine said he still wants additional priorities outlined in the law.

The bill at issue, LB1305, authorizes issuance of $20 million in bonds this year and an additional $10 million issue in 1971, with first priority accorded to completion of the Interstate Highway system.

Adamson wants a second priority established for hard surfacing of roads on the state highway system.

"I want us to give attention to the backlog of road needs before we go to an elaborate expressway system," Adamson said.

Sen. Willard Waldo of DeWitt said he would like to see action on the bond issue delayed until lawmakers consider other highway revenue proposals.

But Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly noted that swift action is required if bonds are to provide additional funds during the current construction year.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, sponsor of LB1305, said the state can also use bond money for investment earnings while construction work is under way.

Sen. Ramey Whitney of Chappell announced that he has changed his mind, and will support the bill.

Earlier, Whitney had feared the bonds would contribute to inflationary trends.

Voluntary Admission Killed

By Associated Press

The Legislature Monday killed a bill which would have provided for the voluntary admission and discharge of persons into and from the Beatrice State Home for the mentally retarded.

The demise of LB728 on general file thus continues the practice of having commitments made by the court.

The bill grew out of studies by a Governor's Committee on Mental Retardation and was sponsored principally by Sen. Harold D. Simpson of Lincoln.

The motion to kill came from Sen. Fred Carstens of Beatrice and carried 22-13.

Winning 31-0 approval on general file was LB188, increasing from six to eight the membership on the University of Nebraska Board of Regents. A constitutional amendment approved by voters last November set the stage for the bill, sponsored by Sen. George Syas of Omaha.

Before advancing the bill, lawmakers removed from it a previously-adopted amendment which had been sponsored by Sen. Loran Schmit of David City, changing the alignment of counties in the districts. Utilized instead was a standing committee amendment.

Also advanced was LB893, permitting a person who has purchased a motor vehicle from a non-dealer to drive the unregistered vehicle to the courthouse for the purpose of getting it registered.

CANADIAN WHISKY – A BLEND • 80 PROOF • IMPORTED BY NATIONAL DISTILLERS PRODUCTS CO., NEW YORK

Elegant tradition:
The smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada!

Tonight serve Windsor Canadian: the remarkable, sippin'-smooth Canadian that's already changing thousands of Americans' ideas on the whisky to serve.

Now compare Windsor! Pour two drinks—highballs or over ice—one with your usual, one with Windsor Canadian. Notice the superior smoothness and the flavor of Windsor.

That's because no other custom-distilled whisky shares these three extraordinary features:

1. Only Windsor Canadian is made from choicest northern prairie grains, bursting with fresh flavor.

2. Only Windsor Canadian is born of icy mountain glacial water drawn pure and clear from underground streams.

3. Only Windsor Canadian is aged in the incredibly dry air of Canada's Rockies. Where, nearly a mile high, it gentles to sippin'-smooth perfection.

Yet it costs no more than leading domestic whiskies, because we import Windsor Canadian, then bottle it here. Thus saving on duties and other charges. Compare the price and the smoothness of Windsor. Once you do, you'll never settle for less or pay more. That's tradition for you!

Alvarez Says He Was 'Led To Believe' He Wouldn't Get Death Penalty

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Condemned slayer Thomas A. Alvarez testified Monday that he pleaded guilty to first degree murder because he was "led to believe" he wouldn't get the death sentence by pleading guilty.

Alvarez, sentenced to die for the 1966 rape and strangulation-slaying of Mrs. Mary O'Shea of Lincoln, took the stand in his behalf during post-conviction proceedings before Lancaster District Judge Bartlett Boyles, who handed down the death sentence.

Prior to opening of the hearing Monday, Judge Boyles overruled a defense motion to disqualify himself as the judge in the post-conviction hearing.

"I was scared for my life . . . I had no choice but to plead guilty," Alvarez said.

He said his attorney, T. Clement Gaughan, had informed him that if he were to have a jury trial, most of the jurors would be in favor of the death penalty.

"He told me Douglas wouldn't ask for the death sentence if I pleaded guilty," Alvares said, adding that Gaughan further told him that if he were to plead guilty, Douglas would drop the two other murder charges filed against him.

Alvarez was originally charged with three counts of first-degree murder — murder with premeditation and malice, murder in the perpetration of a robbery and murder in the perpetration of a rape.

He pleaded guilty to the first charge Dec. 22, 1966, and the other two charges were dismissed Jan. 16, 1967.

'Backed Into Corner'

"I was just backed into a corner," Alvarez testified. "I thought I'd get the death sentence if the case went to a jury."

On cross-examination by County Attorney Paul Douglas, Alvarez was asked if Gaughan didn't tell him there was still a possibility that the judge would impose the death penalty if he were to plead guilty.

"He (Gaughan) wasn't positive," Alvarez answered.

Under cross-examination, Alvarez further testified, "I was pretty sure I'd get the life sentence from the court."

Defense counsel Gaughan testified that his experience in trying murder cases and knowledge he had of such cases had affected his decision as to whether to try Alvarez' case before a jury.

He said he had discussed with Alvarez the fact that "almost automatically" prospective jurors in a first degree murder case are excused from service for cause if they opposed capital punishment.

"I was aware of the fact that everybody who sat on the jury was going to be in favor of capital punishment; and in view of the defendant's confession and reputation of the victim in the community that it would be impossible . . . to obtain any other verdict than the death penalty from such a jury," Gaughan said.

He said he felt about the only way to save the defendant was to "throw the defendant upon the mercy of the court."

He said he had discussed with Douglas dismissing the other two first-degree murder charges against Alvarez and if the case were tried before a jury if Douglas would ask for the death penalty.

Gaughan said Douglas told him he would ask for the death penalty if the case went to jury trial.

However, he said, Douglas agreed that if Alvarez pleaded guilty to the one first-degree murder charge, he would dismiss the other two.

In the event Alvarez pleaded guilty, Douglas agreed he would not make any request as to penalty, but remain silent on the issue, Gaughan said.

Gaughan said these discussions were a "material factor" in his advising the defendant to plead guilty.

Different Opinion

In reference to a recent Supreme Court ruling that jurors can't be excluded because of their opposition to capital punishment, Gaughan testified that he has a different opinion if the case were tried today.

"I have a feeling that if this defendant were tried with a jury — if you have as many as two people who have scruples against the death penalty — I don't believe they would bring in the death penalty," he said.

Attorneys for Alvarez have asked the court to allow the defendant to withdraw his guilty plea to first-degree murder, to set aside the death sentence and impose life imprisonment.

Seberg Named To Post By Dental Association

Dr. G. Herbert Seberg of Hastings Monday was named president-elect of the Nebraska Dental Association at the group's 101st annual meeting.

Dr. Harold P. Hellweg of Lincoln was installed as president of the organization.

During morning sessions, the group's governing body discussed a proposal which would require post-graduate study on the part of Nebraska dentists in order to be relicensed.

Hellweg Seberg

The plan, which would require licensing legislation, was referred back to association committees for further study.

In addition to President Hellweg and President-elect Seberg, other 1969 officers include Dr. Phil Maschkap, of Omaha, vice president; Dr. Fred Davie of Lincoln, treasurer; Dr. Don Herzog of Grand Island, speaker, and Dr. Don Edwards of Lincoln, secretary.

Among those addressing the 1,000 persons attending the convention in Lincoln was Dr. Donald H. Masters, a San Antonio periodontist.

In conjunction with the convention, exhibits and scientific presentations covering recent advancements in dental research and practice are being conducted at Pershing Auditorium.

Catholic Women Meet In Lincoln For Conference

About 175 women gathered in Lincoln Monday for a two-day informal learning conference of the Lincoln Dioesan Council of Catholic Women.

The Lincoln Diocese includes all of the state south of the Platte River — an area which has about 15,000 Catholic women.

Monday's sessions included an informal school for presidents and learning schools for the commissions of organization services, church communities, family affairs, community affairs, and international affairs.

A noon luncheon Tuesday will honor Mrs. Fred Nevels Jr. of Lincoln, who was chosen late last year as one of the three most outstanding Catholic women in America.

The organization will adjourn its meeting at 3 p.m. Tuesday to hold a reception for its national president, Mrs. Norman Folda of Omaha.

3 Starting QBs Return

A year ago at this time, seven of the eight Big Eight football camps had returning starters directing their offenses from under center.

This spring, there are only three — Lynn Dickey at Kansas State, Bob Anderson at Colorado and Terry McMillan at Missouri.

Yet this does not mean, Big Eight football fans are going to see a rash of sophomores calling the signals. Instead, what they're likely to see are some people standing behind the center, who they have been sitting on the bench for the past year or two.

Oklahoma Most Likely

The team most likely to go with a sophomore quarterback is defending co-champion Oklahoma where Jack Mildren, rated the top quarterback recruit in the country a year ago, unloaded his suitcase.

But Mildren, a 6-1, 195-pounder from Abilene, Tex., is currently running No. 2 behind Mickey Ripley, a senior who was impressive filling in for the injured Bob Warmack in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl last winter.

Mildren hit 49 of 79 passes for 876 yards and seven touchdowns as a freshman last fall and ran for another 225 yards, giving him a total offense figure of 1,101 yards in four games.

NU Only Other Possibility

Nebraska appears to be the only other team at this time with a possibility of having a rookie signal caller and that would happen only if sophs Van Brownson or Jerry Tagge begin to show they are superior to senior Frank Patrick, something they have not done as yet in spring drills.

Patrick, although riding the bench most of last season after losing his job to Ernie Sigler in the Wyoming opener, has more experience than anyone else in the league with the exception of Bob Anderson, a two-year starter at Colorado.

And it should be remembered that as a sophomore, Frank led the Big Eight in passing, hitting half his efforts for 1,449 yards. He also holds most Nebraska passing records, something that most NU fans seem to have forgotten in a year's time.

Lettermen Elsewhere

If a sophomore doesn't land the job at Oklahoma or Nebraska, you aren't likely to see a sophomore this season since non-starting lettermen seem to have things under control at Iowa State, Oklahoma State and Kansas.

Jim Ettinger, an understudy to Bobby Douglass the last two years, appears to have sole possession of the job at Kansas where coach Pepper Rodgers has to be a chalk bet to make a top quarterback out of anyone, who can get two hands under a center.

At Iowa State, Obert Tisdale, who saw some duty behind John Warder last season, is the incumbent and his only challengers are two transfers, Randy Palomino and Ralph Baracz.

Robert Cutburth has been having a great spring under new leadership at Oklahoma State and unless sidelined by injury is certain to get the call over sophomores Dick Graham and Kyle Rote, son of the former Southern Methodist star.

Prep Field, Relay Lists Resisting Change

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

For the first time since the high school track season began, one event of the 16 the prepsters contest was without a single change in the top ten chart from one week to the next, as the same two-mile relay squads occupy the select group as a week ago.

In fact, of the three relays and five field events reviewed today, only in the discus did a new leader take over. But the improvement shows up lower down the list, making the minimum standard necessary to gain the top ten harder to achieve each day.

Scottsbluff's Gary Kellogg unleashed a 171-6 discus toss over the past weekend, the sixth best spin of the platter in Nebraska history, to leap out in front of the pack in his specialty.

It gives him a three-and-a-half foot lead over Phil Kloepper of Hastings, who had paced the discus tossers since the first week, and over two feet beyond the five-year-old existing state record.

In the same event, a performer was among the top ten with a flip of 154 feet. This week, with the state meet at Kearney still nearly a month away, Aurora's Dan VanWormer barely makes the list with an effort two feet farther out.

Earlier in the year 5-10 high jumpers were in the list only to be replaced by six-footers. Now 6-1 squeezes into the top ten, giving further indication of the close competition which can be expected when the district and state meet begin in the middle of May.

The long jump now finds the four top placers within two inches of each other and eight leapers out beyond the 22-foot mark.

In addition to Kellogg's big improvement in the discus, which moved him from eighth on the list to the top spot, the biggest gain was made by Richard Leech of Beatrice in the shot put. He came from nowhere to fourth in the state with a 56-1½ heave.

SF, TWINS EXTEND STREAKS

Aaron Blasts Homer No. 513

. . . CLIMBS ON HR CHART

By Associated Press

The San Francisco Giants and Minnesota Twins extended their winning streaks Monday.

The Giants made it seven in a row by edging Cincinnati 4-3 in the National League. The Twins blanked Kansas City 4-0 for their third straight and their eighth victory in 11 starts in the American League.

Bobby Bonds whacked a 400-foot homer in his first time at bat and scored two other runs in leading the Giants over the Reds.

A three-run homer by Rich Reese, a 405-foot drive into the right field bullpen in the fourth inning, backed up Jim Perry's seven-hit shutout pitching for the Twins' triumph.

The Baltimore at Cleveland AL night game was rained out.

The California at Seattle night game also was postponed.

Hank Aaron hit the 513th home run of his career and drove in four runs, leading the Atlanta Braves to a 12-1 victory over Houston for the Astros 13th loss in 14 games.

Aaron's homer — a three-run shot in the third inning, moved him into sixth place on the all-time list.

The homer sent Aaron one ahead of Ed Mathews, a former Braves teammate, and left him eight behind Ted Williams, No. 5 on the list.

Hank Allen drove in three runs with a pair of singles as the Washington Senators whipped Detroit 6-1 for their fifth consecutive victory.

Lefthander Fritz Peterson checked homer-happy Boston on three hits and Roy White doubled home the game's only run in the sixth inning as the New York Yankees shaded the Red Sox 1-0.

Ron Santo singled home the winning run in the 10th as the Chicago Cubs edged Philadelphia 2-1.

Southpaw Steve Carlton fired a four-hitter and Joe Torre drove in two key runs as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2.

Torre's bases-loaded single keyed a three-run first inning flurry and Carlton breezed to his second victory in four decisions.

Loser Bob Moose was clipped for a leadoff single by Lou Brock, then walked Curt Flood and hit Vada Pinson with a pitch before Torre sent the Cards ahead to stay. Walks to Tim McCarver and Dal Maxvill forced in the third run.

Wes Parker awarded a run-scoring triple when a ball boy touched his ninth inning drive in the left field corner, tallied on an infield hit by Ken Blyer, giving the Los Angeles Dodgers a 4-3 victory over San Diego.

LSE Wins As Eaton Goes 13-11

Bill Eaton soared 13-11 in the pole vault and Ron Strnad scored three individual victories as Southeast clipped Beatrice, 73-59, in a record-smashing dual track meet on the Knight cinders Monday.

Eaton's 13-11 vault is the top performance to date in Nebraska prep ranks this season and it was just one of 11 meet standards eclipsed in the 16-event dual.

Only the long jump, high jump, mile and two-mile relays and the two-mile run escaped the statisticians' erasers.

Strnad swept the 100 in :10.0, the 220 in :22.7, the long jump at 20-8 and also ran on the winning Southeast 880 relay quartet.

Dave Pickrel of Beatrice was a double winner, taking the 120 high hurdles in :15.3 and the 180 lows in :20.5.

Bob Unger of Southeast established a school record by winning the mile in 4:35.0.

Flicks Show Improved Showing By NU Units

. . . SCRIMMAGE SET WEDNESDAY

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Jokes are often made about football coaches having to see the films before commenting on their team's performance, but films actually do show coaches things that are not obvious at first glance.

Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney saw some things in watching films Monday of Saturday's scrimmage that were not immediately obvious.

"We had a little better defensive effort than I had at first thought," the Husker coach said Monday as the NU squad went through its 11th of 0 spring sessions.

"And the offense came up with some good plays just as we had thought Saturday," he added. "But we also made a lot of mistakes."

Devaney said sophomore quarterback Jerry Tagge didn't look as good in the movies as he had on the field Saturday. "He threw badly a few times," Devaney pointed out. "But Chuck Osberg (No. 4 sophomore quarterback) looked better than we had thought."

Devaney also found some good blocking by his offensive linemen in the films, a phase of the game that is hard to pick out without studying films.

Gale Williams, Carl Ashman, Wally Winter and Jim McFarland all did a good job of blocking," he said. "And Joe Buda (No. 1 center) showed some improvement."

The Husker coaches made a few lineup changes Monday as they headed toward a Wednesday scrimmage that will be run at only one practice station, not as a full-scale scrimmage such as are held on weekends.

The major change involved the shuffling of Jim Smith and Frank Vactor at left halfback with Smith moving up to the No. 1 spot. Smith is a 5-8, 177-pounder from Midland, Pa.

Other switches saw sophomore David Mason of Green Bay, Wis., moving to the No. 3 unit ahead of Clinton Newton at split end, John Hopkins moving back ahead of Rich Coppa at center on the No. 2 unit, sophomore Johnny Pitts moving from monster to defensive end on the No. 4 defensive unit.

Husker coaches also looked at sophomore defensive end Bill Janssen of Grand Forks, N.D., at center in group work.

"We just want to take a look at him there," Devaney explained. "We may not keep him there."

Another problem has cropped up for the NU staff — at tight end where McFarland is No. 1, but where no one has asserted himself as the backup man.

"Phil Harvey (sophomore from Kansas City, Kan.) has been a pleasant surprise there," Devaney said. "But Doug Dumler and Bill Holmes have not been impressive there."

Dumler and Holmes are both sophomores.

"Dumler has caught the ball well and has blocked well," Devaney added, "But that knee operation has slowed him down in speed and that's been a problem for him."

Lincoln High Rips Pius X 'Nine,' 14-0

. . . LEAKY INFIELD HURTS

Lincoln High pounded a leaky left side in the Pius X infield to trounce the Thunderbolts, 14-0, in baseball action at Muny Diamond Monday afternoon.

Dave Carlson allowed only two hits while collecting his first win of the season.

Carlson got all the runs he needed in the first inning when Mike Shea walked, stole second, and scored on Gary Worster's single.

The left side of the Pius infield committed seven errors in the game which lasted only five innings due to the ten-run rule.

Lincoln High will put their 3-2 record on the line Wednesday when they meet East at Sherman Field. Game time is 4:30.

East AD Art Bauer Moving Back To Northeast As Football Coach

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

East High athletic director Art Bauer, the football coach at Northeast for 10 seasons prior to making the switch two years ago, has resigned to return to his former position.

"I just missed coaching football and the association with the boys too much," Bauer said. "It was a tough decision to make because I have enjoyed my job at East also," he added, "but coaching still gives me my biggest thrills, although I may want to return to an administrative position later."

Bauer, who was selected Sunday Journal and Star Coach of the Year in 1964 following his second undefeated season at Northeast, compiled an enviable 49-5 record in his last six years at the helm of the Rocket eleven. His teams were unbeaten in 1961 and 1963, lost just two in 1962 and suffered single defeats in 1964-65-66.

A 1952 graduate of the University of Nebraska, Bauer coached six years at Sidney before taking over at Northeast. His overall coaching record is 92-49-3.

Bauer was selected head coach of the South team for the Shrine Bowl in 1965. His Rebel squad posted a 7-0 triumph.

When Bauer left Northeast he said, "I can't coach all my life and I feel that this is a good opportunity and I'll still be able to remain in athletics." He admitted that he "felt like a caged lion" while restricted to the press box as the athletic director, and that "coaching and being on the sidelines is still too much in my blood."

Northeast principal Harlan Taylor said, "Obviously we are pleased Mr. Bauer, having decided to re-enter coaching, saw fit to return to Lincoln Northeast. I am sure that his decision will be received with anticipation by everyone connected with the school and the Northeast Lincoln community."

Dr. Jean McGrew, the East High principal, had only one reservation in wishing Bauer well when he said, "We are certainly sorry to see Art leave us. He has been valuable in helping us establish a fine, growing athletic program. All of the Spartans wish him well in his return to coaching — except when he faces East High."

Van Berg Horse Takes Fonner Featured Race

. . . HUSKER ACE GETS SECOND

Grand Island —M. H. Van Berg's Zuke's Bad Boy, ridden by Danny Whited, won the $4,000-added Fonner Park Special Stakes for three-year-old Nebraska-bred horses Monday.

Zuke's Bad Boy was the farorite in the race and proved worthy of the tag by never being headed throughout the race.

Closest horses to the winner were Husker Ace, with Fred Ecoffey aboard, and Bobby Dorene, ridden by Gary Houghton, but both finished a length and a half back with Husker Ace getting second by a neck.

The time of the race was 1:12, just one-fifth of a second off the track record.

The winner paid $3.80, $2.60, and $2.40 to its supporters in the crowd of 4,174.

Hanson Gets Omaha Cage Coach Post

Omaha (AP) —Robert E. Hanson, assistant coach at Hiram Scott College at Scottsbluff, was named basketball coach at the University of Nebraska at Omaha Monday.

Hanson, 28, will succeed Jim Borsheim, who resigned as coach but retained his tenure in the men's physical education department.

Dr. Kirk Naylor, UNO president, said he will recommend Hanson to the Board of Regents at a meeting next month.

Eight Going In Derby Trial

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Eight 3-year-olds are entered in Tuesday's Derby Trial stakes, each hoping to earn credentials for an invitation to next Saturday's Kentucky Derby summit meeting between this year's big four of racing.

Only one of the eight is likely to be tabbed as a starter in the $125,000-added Derby, with the barest possibility that none of them — or perhaps two — might make it to the starting gate for America's most famous horse race.

The powerful foursome of Top Knight, Majestic Prince, Arts and Letters and Dike have frightened away most competition for the 1¼-mile Derby, with only an impressive Trial victory to earn a ticket for someone to the run for the roses.

Heading the Trial field are Ack Ack and Never Bow, flying the blue and white checkered colors of Cain Hoy Stable. Manny Ycaza, already scheduled to ride Top Knight in the Derby, will be aboard the favored Ack Ack in the Trial.

Challenging the entry will be Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Kanowsky's Fleet Allied, J. B. Buse's Polar Traffic, Brunswick Farm's Jim's Gold, C., Mrs. Robert E. Harris, Rae Jet, Catesby Clay's Shiek of Bagdad, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chaplin's Indian Emerald.

Race Engine Size Limit Will Be Cut

New York (AP) — The Auto Competition Committee of the U.S. (ACCUS) announced Monday a drastic reduction in engine sizes for stock car racing effective with the 1971 season.

The ACCUS, which sets racing rules in this country, said the action was taken to encourage competition by cars more representative of those on sale in dealer show rooms.

It also apparently was intended to reduce speeds on the major racing tracks, which this year climbed into the 190 mile per hour bracket at Daytona Beach, Fla., and will be higher at a new track under construction at Talladega, Ala.

The ACCUS also set a higher minimum production requirement for 1970, apparently to encourage all manufacturers to engage in the sport on a factory basis. Ford and Chrysler are the only automakers which presently maintain big production car racing teams, although American Motors is participating in small sedan competition this season.

Beginning in 1971, a limit of six liters (366 cubic inches) in engine displacement will be in effect for stock cars eligible to race in events of the United States Auto Club and the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing. The present limit is seven liters or 430 cubic inches.

NU Soccer Club Suffers Narrow Tourney Losses

Manhattan, Kan. — Nebraska suffered a pair of narrow losses while Colorado captured the championship in the rain-hampered Big Eight Soccer Tournament here last weekend.

Kansas scored a goal with just 10 seconds left in the game to edge Nebraska, 1-0, in a first round match.

The other Nebraska loss was a 5-3 setback at the hands of Missouri in a losers' bracket contest. Rafael Ruvwa scored all three Nebraska goals.

Kansas finished second and Oklahoma third behind the winning Colorado entry. Rain forced cancellation of several other games, preventing the determination of the other placings.

Little Fry Banquet Scheduled Wednesday

The Salvation Army Community Center's Little Fry basketball banquet will be held at 6 p.m. Wednesday at the Legion Club to honor Lincoln's national champion Small Fry team.

A benefit basketball game for the Janice Burton fund will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday night at the Salvation Army Community Center, 1645 No. 27th, pitting the national championship team against a team of Lincoln sportscasters and sports writers.

Woops! Re-Check Shows Nebraska Won Rodeo Title

A re-check of figures has disclosed that the University of Nebraska Rodeo boys team was the final winner of the NU Centennial Rodeo at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum Saturday night — not Black Hills State College of Spearfish, S.D., as originally reported.

The disclosure was made Monday by Chip Whitaker, Nebraska regional director for the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Assn. (NIRA), and Prof. R. B. Warren, NU Rodeo Club faculty sponsor.

The final revised, official standings now make NU first with 414 points; Black Hills State second with 379½ points and Iowa State University third with 231 points. Individual championships were not affected, nor were the official standings of the girls team competition.

Tom Miller of Black Hills State edged Chip Whitaker of NU, 181½ points to 178½ points for all-around cowboy.

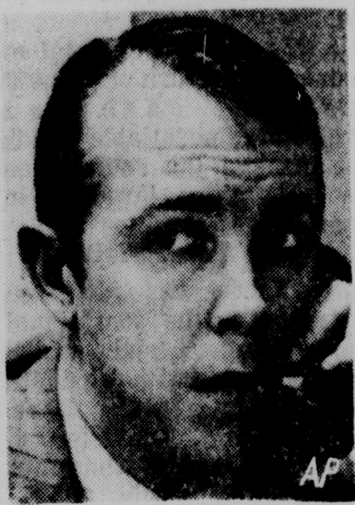
The Campus In Turmoil:

Student Power Put To Work By Moderates

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth installment of a 12-part series.

By WALTER W. MEEK
With M. STANTON EVANS

WALTER W. MEEK



M. STANTON EVANS

While college radicals shout demands for "student power," many of their moderate classmates are putting it to work without fanfare.

At the University of Oregon, for example, students in the School of Community Service and Public Affairs have just been granted one-third of the vote in the school's policy-making general staff committee.

Because of irregular faculty attendance at meetings, the students say it's likely they will be equal partners in setting policy.

Twin Cliches

CSPA, in its operation and curriculum, is putting into practice the twin cliches of campus dissent — "student power" and "relevance."

The CSPA experiment is different but not revolutionary. Across the country moderate students are asserting new influence at every level of the college system.

Sometimes their goals aren't very different from those of the radical left. But they fight for change by working within the university system instead of trying to destroy it.

All across the college map, students are working their way into faculty and administrative councils. They are helping to choose university presidents, deans and faculty. More and more they are taking complete charge of student affairs and budgets that sometimes run higher than $1 million.

CSPA, officially 1½ years old, is one of a handful of undergraduate professional schools in the country. It is preparing about 280 major and pre-major students for careers in the public sector.

Innovative Curriculum

It also serves another 1,300 students in the university with an innovative liberal arts curriculum that many student dissidents across the country would envy for its "relevance."

"As an applied social science school, we're problem-centered rather than course- or discipline-oriented," explains Dean Norman Sundberg. That means the CSPA courses, using team teaching and other techniques, cut across traditional academic subjects to focus on social and political issues.

Sample subjects include poverty, violence, black power and urban unrest. The school has inherited much of the developing black studies curriculum at Oregon also.

"Some of our most interesting courses were suggested by the students," Sundberg said, adding that CSPA has sought student advice on curriculum from the start.

Different Example

Crossing to the East Coast for a different example of student influence, a committee at Harvard acts as student watchdog over the university's academic performance.

The main function of the Harvard-Radcliffe Policy Committee is to "audit" Harvard's academic departments, six each year. It polls and interviews students and faculty, analyzes lectures, examinations, course requirements, the working conditions of graduate assistants, etc. Its reports are taken seriously, students say.

One of the committee members, 21-year-old Kay Tolbert, is a Washington, D.C. senior bound for law school. And her political views are ultra-liberal if not New Left. Why does she expend her energy and time on the policy committee's work rather than on radical politics?

"Precisely because I think we can get something done. Our goals are usually short range and obtainable.

"I may agree with the radicals, but I'm not convinced that SDS radical methodology is the way to accomplish anything."

Final Appeal

At Harvard the final appeal on all issues is to the faculty, not the administration, and students know it. And Harvard's faculty is probably more accessible to students than the faculty of almost any other major university.

But Miss Tolbert and other student leaders are campaigning for a stronger student voice in faculty councils where decisions are made.

"They listen to us, but we're not there for their discussion or action," she said. "Sometimes they simply misread what we've said."

At the University of Washington in Seattle student muscle is flexed effectively by the 2½-year-old Graduate and Professional Student Senate. Its purview is "anything that affects student life," according to Bill Inglis, its first president and now an assistant to the university vice-president.

The elected graduate senate has fought discrimination in off-campus housing; prompted programs and raised funds for minority students; recruited tutors for black undergraduates. In the works are a university-wide senate and a student-faculty bill of rights.

"Protest marches aren't very smart," Inglis says, "You get what you want by doing your homework on the problems and then getting to the guy who makes the decisions. Student input is one of the most valuable resources in a university. At least 50% of it is good, and that's as high a percentage as you get in any enterprise."

NEXT: The new breed of campus leaders.

THERE WILL BE NONE OF THIS with your newspaperboy this summer

There is nothing more sad than to see a healthy, ambitious boy, twelve to fourteen, sitting dejectedly on the curb, his chin cupped in his hands—with nothing constructive to do.

Not only is he being deprived of continuing his education during his formative years, he is being robbed of making some contribution to the home and community in which he lives. His nervous energy and active mind may find as an outlet some anti-social or self-destructive activity.

This danger does not exist when there is a ready outlet for a young fellow's talents and energy through his own newspaperboy business. Even though school has been closed for the summer, he goes right on learning—and earning. He is making his leisure time count for something worthwhile.

Concentrating Engineering At NU At Lincoln Is Urged

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Omaha — Consultants studying the University of Nebraska engineering programs at Lincoln and Omaha Monday night recommended concentrating the engineering program at Lincoln and expanding the technology program at Omaha.

The upper division program — courses required for an engineering degree taken after the first two years in school — should be phased out at Omaha and moved to Lincoln, the three consultants suggested.

A faculty engineering program committee, including representatives from both Lincoln and Omaha, generally concurred with the consultants' proposals.

Revised Later

The recommendations, presented to a group of Omaha business, industrial, financial and community leaders here for their reaction, will be revised and submitted to the NU Board of Regents later. Members of the engineering profession in Omaha will hear the reports May 9.

Serving as consultants for NU were Oklahoma State University engineering Dean M. R. Lohmann, Vanderbilt University professor of engineering management Dr. Merritt A. Williamson, and University of Wisconsin engineering Dean Kurt F. Wendt.

The faculty committee included NU engineering Dean John R. Davis, and Niles H. Barnard, James C. Wolford, James Q. Hossack, Edwin E. Kinney and Anson D. Marston.

Both the consultants and the faculty group agreed the state "cannot afford to continue or to develop unnecessary duplication in engineering programs and that every effort must be made to assure high quality in engineering education and research."

At Lincoln

Both groups indicated that after the freshman and sophomore years of engineering education at Omaha, students should take their upper division courses at Lincoln. Phasing out of the Omaha upper division engineering program should be accomplished by the 1971-73 biennium, according to the faculty recommendations.

However, "recognizing the number of students enrolled in civil engineering at Omaha and the large need for civil engineers in the Omaha area," the faculty committee recommended continuing the civil engineering programs at UNO through the upper division.

With such a structure, UNO faculty would be involved in engineering programs at all undergraduate and graduate levels, it was pointed out. In addition, part-time students in civil engineering would be able to finish requirements while partially employed.

The consultants proposed that a master's degree program in engineering be established on both campuses, noting the need in Omaha for graduate level courses for engineers employed in the area.

A master of science degree from NU should be given without designation as to geographic location to avoid an implication that there is a difference in quality of education, the consultants stated.

The consultants said that due to the necessity for full-time study and participation in original research, the Ph.D. degree should be completed only in Lincoln.

Offered Jointly

Recommendations from the faculty group indicated that courses and programs leading toward graduate degrees in various fields of engineering on both campuses will be offered jointly by the faculties of both campuses.

The faculty proposal, however, was to offer programs at UNO predominantly of design orientation and to offer programs of both design and research orientation at Lincoln.

Better support and expanded offerings were recommended for the technical institute and industrial technology programs at Omaha. Joint faculty appointments by the University Medical Center and UNO were also suggested.

"Because of its convenient location to most of the industries of Nebraska," the Omaha campus should be encouraged to provide non-credit short courses for adult education to upgrade he technical community, according to the consultants.

Mrs. Kay Nelson Heads Nebraska Dental Hygienists

About 40 dental hygienists from across the state met in Lincoln Monday for the annual meeting of the Nebraska Dental Hygienists' Association.

Mrs. Kay Nelson of Omaha was elected president of the group, replacing Mrs. Kay Strand of Omaha. Also elected were Mrs. Diane Troyer of Lincoln, president-elect, and Mrs. Janet Wehrli of Omaha, secretary-treasurer.

Former County Attorney Maxwell Towle Dies

MAXWELL TOWLE

Maxwell G. (Max) Towle of 1925 Dakota, Lancaster County attorney for 20 years, died Sunday at the age of 79. Services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Hodgman-Splain-Roberts' Mortuary at 4040 A.

Mr. Towle was deputy county attorney from 1919 until 1926 when he was elected county attorney. He served until his defeat for re-election in 1946.

During his 20 years as county attorney, he was successful in securing convictions for two men who aided in the $2.5 million robbery of the Lincoln National Bank in 1930.

He was also instrumental in securing the return of $600,000 worth of cash and unregistered negotiable bonds that marked the robbery as one of the largest in American history.

Sharp Murder Trial

Mr. Towle was also the prosecutor in the sensational Sharp murder trial, which was tried twice with the death sentence given both times. The defendant, convicted of the brutal claw hammer slaying of his wife, subsequently died in the electric chair at the State Penitentiary.

Born in Annandale, Minn., Mr. Towle was a Lincoln resident 75 years.

He was captain of the football team at Lincoln High School and at the University of Nebraska was captain of the baseball team and a quarterback on the football team in 1912 and 1913.

He was a graduate of NU's Law College.

Justice of Peace

Mr. Towle became a justice of the peace in 1916, but resigned in 1917 to enter the naval air service in World War I. He returned to Lincoln after the war and became deputy county attorney.

After his defeat for re-election as county attorney in 1946, Mr. Towle entered private practice with his deputy county attorney, Farley Young — a practice in which he was active until six weeks ago.

A Republican, Mr. Towle was a candidate for state attorney general in 1952, but was defeated in the primary election. In 1944 and 1948, his party elected him a delegate-at-large to the national presidential conventions.

Lobbyist

Mr. Towle was a lobbyist in the Unicameral from 1941 to 1959, representing a wide variety of organizations and groups.

He was also a former football coach, serving Hastings College, Central City College and Nebraska Wesleyan University. He was one of the few "mail order" coaches in Nebraska prep history as he coached Central City High School's teams by mail.

Mr. Towle was president of the Nebraska County Attorneys Association three times, a past president of the Lincoln Bar Association, a past vice president of the State Bar Association and a past president of both the Lincoln and Lancaster County Republican Clubs.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth; daughter, Virginia of San Jose, Calif., and nephews, Richard W. Towle of Los Altos, Calif., and Niles Towle of Lincoln.

He was also a member of the Elks, American Legion, International Order of Odd Fellows and a former member of the Knights of Pythias and the Chamber of Commerce. He served on the ethics committee of the Lincoln Bar Association.

Mr. Towle was also well-known in Nebraska as a breeder of thoroughbred horses.

Advisory Unit Backs Study Urging Private Care Homes

The nursing home advisory committee of the Lincoln Hospital and Health Council Monday endorsed a recommendation that Lancaster County officials look to private or voluntary organizations to meet county nursing care needs.

Committee members agreed with the A. T. Kearney consulting firm's determination that "operation of a county nursing care facility in the old Lincoln General Hospital building is not feasible."

The Chicago firm reviewed the old hospital building and studied three other alternatives involving a county-operated nursing care facility in arriving at the recommendation that the county encourage a "private or voluntary organization to construct a facility or add to an existing facility to meet county needs for nursing care beds."

Such a course, according to the Kearney Co., would eliminate the need for a large initial capital investment and problems of management for the county and would provide the level of care desired by contract with a suitable agency.

County officials last week had expressed criticism of the Lincoln General Hospital Board of Trustees for voting to raze the old building before the county had made a decision on using the site for a nursing home.

The nursing home advisory committee, meeting with County Commissioners William Grossman and Ralph Harlan, also called for nursing home care to be at the same level or quality for indigent or welfare patients as for any other patients.

The consensus of the committee and the consulting firm was that the county could not provide nursing home care any more efficiently than proprietary or voluntary homes.

Daily costs for patients at the county convalescent unit are much higher than normal nursing home care, it was pointed out by the committee members.

Therefore, the group decided, the county should seek other operators to provide needed nursing home care.

However, the nursing home advisory group also agreed, the Kearney proposal still would not solve the problem because the low level of reimbursement for county patients authorized by the state hinders development of nursing home care.

A committee was appointed to develop a presentation for the Legislature's Budget Committee urging an increased reimbursement formula.

Council Indefinitely Postpones Action On Zone Change In Area Of 13th, G

The Lincoln City Council Monday voted to indefinitely postpone action that would change the zoning of property along 13th St. between G and J Sts. to II Commercial.

The land is presently zoned E Multiple and F Restricted Commercial.

James Gaylord, who was represented by Atty. Robert Guenzel, had requested one change to II Commercial on the southwest corner of 13th and G Sts. and the council had applied for the other change of zone on the land in the area near the State Capitol.

Gaylord had intended to build a Kentucky Fried Chicken Restaurant at the site.

A number of persons appeared in opposition to the change.

A public hearing had been held last week but proponents were not able to attend the meeting and asked that they be heard Monday.

Gunzel said the exhaust system at the restaurant would take care of the offensive smells that opponents last week had claimed would occur with such a restaurant in the neighborhood.

Jay McMaster, one of the opponents of the zoning changes, said he is against the "corridor zoning for retail businesses" in the multiple dwelling unit area.

Residential Use

The council, except for Councilman John Comstock who voted against "killing" the zoning changes, agreed that the area should be developed for residential use through apartment buildings.

Comstock indicated the change should be approved for Gaylord and that the II Commercial should also be available for a proposed Dairy Queen at 13th and H Sts.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden said he opposes any change to II Commercial in the area.

The City Council also held a lengthy discussion session on a special permit for a community unit plan requested by Richard Vestecka and others on land located in the area of 70th and Van Dorn.

Council members voiced objections to the proposed garage facilities in the plan.

A solid brick wall of garages bordering the property had been presented by the developers as an integral part of the development.

Councilwoman Mrs. Helen Boosalis asserted the "solid garages would have an adverse effect on residential developments."

Brick Wall

"Who would want to look at a continuous brick wall of garages?" Mrs. Boosalis asked.

Comstock also indicated he thought the plan proposed too many units.

The applicants agreed to redraw the plans to provide a break in the roof lines by including open parking spaces between garages.

Action on the community unit plan will come later, since the special permit had not been prepared.

The Human Rights Commission would be increased to 11 members according to an ordinance introduced at the council meeting.

Action on the ordinance is expected at the May 12 meeting.

The commission had requested the increased size and asked that new members represent the Indian and labor groups.

Dale Renner appeared before the council on a resolution regarding negotiations between the Lincoln Electric System (LES) and Norris Public Power District.

Renner, special assistant to the mayor on the LES, commented on the negotiations.

Council members decided to refer the resolution, which calls for the council to ask that the negotiations be completed as soon as possible, to be referred to the Norris negotiating committee of the Power Advisory Board.

County 4-Hers Score A 'First'

A "first" in national competition for Nebraska 4-H Clubs occurred Monday when the Lancaster County 4-H land and range judging teams departed for Oklahoma City for the International Land and Range Judging Contest.

It is the first time that one county has furnished both state teams and in recognition of the event, members of the teams and their parents were guests of the Capital City Kiwanis Club.

Land judging team members are Gary Lesoing of Hickman, Phil Doeschot of Adams, Cal Paschold of Firth and Doug Deats of Roca.

Members of the range judging team are Ron Navratil, Jeannette Wiechert and Larry Caster, all of rural Lincoln, and Dwight Gee of Bennet.

Neal Hafemeister Named President Of History Group

Neal Hafemeister, social studies consultant for the Lincoln Public Schools, has been elected president of the Nebraska State History and Social Studies Association.

Others elected to serve on the executive council were Dr. Paul Beck of the University of Nebraska at Omaha, president-elect; Dr. John Lux, NU professor, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Willis Moreland, NU professor, executive secretary.

R. Findley Wins National Award

Robert P. Findley, a sophomore majoring in architecture at the University of Nebraska, has won a national award in the 1968-69 Architectural Scholarship Awards Program sponsored by the Portland Cement Association.

Findley was one of eight winners in the annual competition for student architects in the United States and Canada.

The winning students will leave June 26 for a summer of study at the Fontainebleau School of Fine Arts near Paris, France.

Industrial Arts Exhibit Is Slated

Lincoln junior and senior high industrial education students will display projects made for classes at an industrial arts exhibit in Gateway Auditorium, Thursday through Saturday.

Some 300 projects are expected to be submitted for the display, including work in wood, crafts, jewelry and metals, reported industrial arts consultant Robert Law.

The exhibit will be open for public viewing 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., Thursday and Friday, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday.

Stock Mart Erases Its Early Losses

New York (AP) — The stock market rambled about a bit Monday before erasing its small early losses and closing slightly ahead.

"It was sort of a standoff performance," an analyst said, "but the market did do pretty well in that it demonstrated once again its ability to withstand unsettling news and showed that it has little inclination to buckle."

Brokers said investors were made cautious in part by "uncertainty as to what degree Charles de Gaulle's resignation as president of France would affect the future, especially the European economic situation."

Another analyst observed that some investors also continued cautious while "waiting to see what's going to happen in the administration's fight to cool the economy and curg inflation."

The Dow Jones industrial average, moving fractionally through most of the session, firmed in later trading and closed at 925.08, up 1.08.

Gains took an early slim lead over losses and held onto it. Of 1,576 issues traded, 694 advanced, and 646 declined New highs for the year came to 50 and new lows 86.

Volume was 11.12 million shares, compared with 12.48 million shares Friday. Blocks of 10,000 shares or more on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 58, compared with 85 Friday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .2 to 332.4, with industrials up .1, rails up 2, and utilities up 3.

Del E. Webb Corp., which recently reported higher earnings, was the most-active issue on the Big Board, where 15 of the 20 most-active gained, 3 lost, and 2 were unchanged. Webb was up ⅜ to 18¾.

Eleven of the 20 most-active issues on the American Stock Exchange advanced, 7 and 2 were unchanged.

Volume was 5.59 million shares, compared with 5.35 million Friday. The Amex index gained 14 cents to $30.23.

Fed Cattle Values Up At Omaha

Omaha (AP) — Decreased marketings around the circuit offset a slight increase in receipts at Omaha Monday as fed cattle values carved out another advance.

Corn Futures Lead Advance In Grain Mart

Chicago (AP) — Corn futures prices advanced 2½ cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade Monday and churned up buying activity for advances of more than 1 cent in most other commodities on the exchange.

Trade was active for the second straight session, largely on the strength in the corn pit. The buying of corn was attributed again to the U.S. Department of Agriculture report issued last Thursday concerning the amount of corn held in all positions as of April 1. This report was construed as bullish and Friday corn futures advanced more than 3 cents a bushel. Other grain futures also rose in price on the momentum in corn.

When trade closed, wheat was ⅛ to 1 cent a bushel higher, May 1.32½; corn was 1¼ to 2⅛ higher, May 1.26; oats were ¼ to 1 cent higher, May 66¼ cents; rye was ¼ to 1¾ higher, May 1.25; and soybeans were ¼ to 1¼ higher, May 2.66¼.

Solons Told Lack Of Bonds Would Delay Interstate In West

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

State Engineer Marvin Nuernberger told members of the Legislature Monday night that completion of the Interstate Highway in western Nebraska will be delayed if lawmakers do not approve issuance of highway bonds.

Interstate construction in the Omaha area cannot be greatly accelerated because of engineering problems involving traffic control and roadway settling needs, senators were informed.

So it would be completion of the stretch west of Chappell — and the new Interstate bridge at Sioux City — which would be most affected by refusal to utilize bond financing, Nuernberger said.

More than 30 senators attended an evening briefing on highway plans conducted by Department of Roads personnel.

Also sitting in on the inconclusive question-and-answer session were Gov. Norbert Tiemann and four members of the State Highway Commission.

Lawmakers scheduled the unusual nightime meeting in an effort to break the impasse which has trapped the bond financing bill on general file awaiting decision.

Nuernberger said failure to utilize bond financing will delay completion of the Interstate by a minimum of one year, and more likely two or three years.

LB1305 proposes issuance of $20 million in bonds this year, and an additional $10 million issue in 1971.

Without such financing, Nuernberger said, "we would be completely dependent upon the federal government" to determine when adequate funds will be available to complete the system.

Prospects are that Congress may delay its completion date, now set at 1974, he said.

All $20 million raised this year would go to the Interstate, Nuernberger said, and a portion of the $10 million might also be needed.

The remaining share of the second-year bond money should be obligated to "backlog needs" on the state highway system, the engineer said.

In an opening statement, Nuernberger stressed to senators his belief that the people, by authorizing the use of bond financing last year, "indicated they want good highways . . . and they are willing to pay for their cost."

Early completion of the Interstate system would economically benefit the state, he said.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff said he may ask the Legislature to authorize issuance of the entire $30 million bond issue immediately so funds could be invested and earn interest for the state pending their obligation.

Carpenter also told Nuernberger the Legislature may wish to determine the routes of expressways proposed in the Highway Department's new 20-year plan.

Sen. Herb Duis of Gothenburg indicated he may want LB1305 amended to place a limit on interest charges which the highway bond commission would be permitted to negotiate.

Nuernberger said $66 million of Interstate 80 work is yet to be obligated, including $38 million west of Chappell. Omaha area work involves an additional $23 million.

Work on the Sioux City bridge will cost about $7.8 million, and an additional $5 million will be required to complete highway facilities between Chappell and Omaha.

With bonds, all the work can be completed during the 1973 construction season, Nuernberger said.

Beatrice City Council Advances Paving Plan

Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice — By a 6-2 vote, the City Council Monday night ordered preparation of an ordinance which would force approximately 40 blocks of paving linking already hard-surfaced streets.

Vehicle for the improvements would be a citywide district comprised of one-block segments only. Although state law permits their creation, there were warnings the move will stir widespread controversy.

"If you think mandatory sidewalk districts created dissension, just wait till we get into this," cautioned Harley Kollekowski, council president.

Mayor Ray Elwood expressed doubts that "we'll get a single block," but the council decided the effort would be worth the controversy. Henry Milke moved to have the ordinance drawn.

George Schmucker, assistant manager of the Board of Public Works, suggested the alternative of trying only a few blocks where paving interest has been indicated. Voting against the plan were Councilmen Larry Probst and Matt Hale.

On another street matter, a proposed trial of cold asphalt surfacing for eight designated blocks failed for lack of a second. Noting that the city had averaged only three to five blocks of paving the past three years, Schmucker said the estimated cost of $2.30 per front foot might encourage more surfacing.

The council deferred for later action a one-way street plan recommesded by State Traffic Engineer Robert Meyer. One of five submitted, it calls for one-way traffic south on U.S. 77 (6th St.), north on 7th St., west on Ella and east on U.S. 136 (Court).

After considerable discussion, hours for the city dump were established at 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on all weekdays but Wednesday and Friday. Public hauling will also be permitted on those two days.

Elwood urged Sunday openings as well, at least for the next 60 days, but was unsuccessful. He also reminded that a new ordinance prohibits use of garbage containers larger than 30 gallons.

Complaints of refuse in the vicinity of the abandoned Indian Creek channel prompted a decision to clear the area. However, the council indicated any future dumping would be strictly the responsibility of individual property owners.

By a 5-3 vote, permission was given for recording council sessions as requested by the local radio station. There was some objection that "only the goodie part" would be broadcast, but the council agreed to a trial period.

Elwood's negative vote broke a 4-4 tie on a traffic ordinance which would limit passing on the right side except where streets are marked. Police Chief Merl Hesser requested the ordinance as a clarification, but opponents claimed streets are insufficiently marked.

The council also:

—Set hearing for May 5 on zoning appeal of Loren Bell at 11th and Washington.

—Appointed Wayne Hofeling to Plumbing Board replacing William Trauernicht, who resigned.

—Approved reappointment of Charles B. Elliott to Board of Public Works.

—Accepted resignation of Robert L. Rockemann from Police Department.

—Passed ordinance prohibiting disposal of wrecked buildings in city dump.

—Passed ordinance creating paving district 218.

School Calendar Proposal Keeps Non-Duty Days

The school calendar for 1969-70 will be recommended to the Lincoln Board of Education with the regular two-day teachers' convention in the fall as non-duty days for teachers.

Lincoln Education Association President Richard Nagele had previously indicated that the teachers' group might propose that school be held for students and teachers during the two-day convention.

Nagele suggested the possibility to teachers in a letter last week, noting that the Nebraska State Education Association "for the third time this school year" had "opposed goals desired by the LEA."

The NSEA, which sponsors the annual conventions, had rejected in a board of directors vote, the request of large local associations for a partial rebate of members' dues paid to NSEA to pay costs of local executive secretaries.

Nagele also objected to the NSEA news report about the Lincoln school board's differentiated salary plan.

Nearly Half Of Chuckholes Now Patched

"Approximately 50% of the residential streets have had the chuckholes patched," Robert Obering, city public works director, said Monday.

He said the city crews will be working on all residential streets with chuckholes created by the winter conditions.

Obering said also that Normal Blvd. from 33rd St. to South St. and 17th St. from Euclid Ave, to Van Dorn St. have been resurfaced as part of the spring street resurfacing project.

The two streets — finished last week — represents part of the 12 miles of streets that will be entirely resurfaced by a private contractor hired by the city.

The public works director said work has also been completed on the patching of the following arterial streets:

Bev Taylor
—16th St., O St. to South St.
—17th St., O St. to South St.
—33rd St., South St. to Van Dorn St.
—40th St., South St. to Van Dorn St.

—Holdrege St., 19th St. to 27th St.

Reorganizing Ordered In Model Cities Effort

New York Times Service

By JOHN HERBERS

Washington — President Nixon has ordered a major reorganization of the model cities program that includes giving local officials authority to expand model neighborhoods to cover all poverty areas within a city.

As conceived by the Johnson administration in 1966, the program was designed to rehabilitate neighborhoods of limited population through a concentration of services and facilities.

George Romney, secretary of housing and urban development, announced the reorganization Monday, saying it was intended to correct "critical deficiencies" that the Nixon administration had inherited from the authors of the program.

Under the reorganization, mayors will have more authority, state governments and the private sector will be brought more into planning and administration and the President's Council of Urban Affairs will have responsibility for "interdepartmental policy affecting model cities."

By removing the restriction on size, the model neighborhoods undoubtedly will be expanded greatly in many cities. At the same time, however, the Nixon administration is asking Congress for $675 million in block grants for model cities, $75 million more than had the Johnson administration.

What this means is that the Nixon administration has decided to use model cities as a means of improving and decentralizing federal programs going to cities while abandoning the Johnson administration concept of making narrowly defined model neighborhoods a showcase of what can be done in urban rehabilitation.

Romney said his department was removing from the Johnson administration model cities guidelines the provision that model neighborhoods comprise no more than 10% of the city's population.

"This guideline has been administered haphazardly in the past and has hindered progress at the local level," he said. "Eliminating the guideline does not mean that the program will be expanded citywide within each city.

"Its purpose will remain that of focusing resources on particularly poor and blighted neighborhoods, but local officials will be given greater latitude in drawing boundaries that conform to local conditions," he said.

Some mayors have been pressing for authority to expand the model neighborhoods, saying that persons outside the neghborhoods are demanding equal treatment. Other mayors, however, have said that to be effective the program should be restricted to the neighborhoods as now defined under the 10% restriction.

Converging Student Radicals Broken Up By Tokyo Police

Tokyo (AP) — Thousands of radical students, throwing rocks and flaming sticks, turned Tokyo's Ginza area into a tear gas-choked battleground Monday night, climaxing a day of anti-American demonstrations.

Tokyo police, whose tight barricades kept the students away from the U.S. Embassy and main government offices, reported 94 officers were injured and 937 students arrested. The fire department, which handles Tokyo's ambulance service, estimated about 200 persons were injured.

Leftists had designated Monday "Okinawa Day," 17th anniversary of the World War II peace treaty which placed Okinawa under U.S. control. The Japanese want the territory back and government talks are under way in Washington. Monday's demonstrators also shouted for abolition of the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

Converging on Tokyo's central railroad station, about 3,000 radical students marched down the tracks to nearby Shimbashi station, snake-danced through nearby neighborhoods, fought hit-and-run skirmishes with riot police and — under the Ginza's bright lights — ran up against a solid wall of police behind shields.

Including students who attacked police elsewhere in the capital city, an estimated 5,000 radicals joined in the violence. Police said 12,000 riot police had been mobilized to handle them.

The first violence of the day was a brief stoning of Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's private residence, but some 100 students were driven off before they damaged the home.

The violence halted rail service in Tokyo for about seven hours, but many downtown workers had gone home early in anticipation of trouble.

In Okinawa itself, demonstrators remained calm. A crowd estimated by police to number 26,000 heard Chobyo Yara, leftist-backed chief executive of the island's limited self-government, call for immediate reyersion of the island to Japanese rule. While he was speaking, a group of Marxist students burned a Japanese flag and an American flag hanging from a nearby building.

Scouts To Share Jamboree Theme

All Boy Scout troops in the Cornhusker Council will share in the Boy Scout National Jamboree, although only 37 local scouts are attending the 7th national meeting in Idaho in July.

A series of meetings has been scheduled for after the conference so those attending can put the theme — "Building to Serve" — into action through the local units.

Those attending include Bob Marker, scoutmaster; Loren Wilson, assistant scoutmaster and Dave Van Horn, assistant scoutmaster.

Also attending:

Brad Sporhase, James Simpson, Bill Wendling, Alfred Gigstad, Robert Olson, Charles Slagle, Don Van Horn, Robert Apelz, Wendell Wendling, Robert Weimer, William Miller.

Phillip Van Buren, Billy Marker, Gary Reichlinger, Michael Daake, Mark Stappenbeck, Lawrence Griffing, John Blair, Tim Lommasson, Scott Marshall, Rusty Brauer, Warren Brauer, Anton Vidlak.

Penalties Asked For Disturbances On Campuses

By United Press International

A bill which would make it illegal to disrupt a campus or seize a campus building was one of two bills introduced in the Legislature Monday.

The measure, LB1381, which is a copy of a bill now pending before Congress, was introduced by the Government and Military Affairs Committee.

It provides for a penalty of up to six months in jail and a $500 fine for violation. If a person is injured during the course of a disturbance, the penalty for those involved would be raised to a maximum $1,000 fine and five years in jail. If someone were killed, those involved would be subject to a jail sentence of up to 10 years.

The other bill introduced, LB1380, would authorize the State Historical Society to purchase the Neligh Mills in Antelope County at a cost not to exceed $5,000.

It is sponsored by the Unicameral's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee.

Lightning Kills 10

Alinea, Upper Volta (UPI) — Lightning struck a village meeting house during a thunderstorm, igniting the structure and causing the death of 10 persons inside, authorities reported.

Peterson: City Need Not Profit On Recreation

"I feel we should not try to make money or break even on our recreation," City Council candidate Harry (Pete) Peterson told a group recently.

"The big question is, 'Do we want busy youngsters in our parks, swimming pools and tennis courts or would we rather fill our state institutions'," Peterson remarked, pointing out that recreation helps curb juvenile delinquency.

Speaking on the increased recreational fees this year, Peterson said, "My contacts in the community have shown me families who could barely afford an occasional visit to these recreational areas. Now since fees have increased, it makes this wholesome recreation out of reach for many, especially those with large families," he said.

"An answer might be a recreational fund or plan that could be used by those unable to use their own monies," he concluded.

Ex-Lincolnites Deaths Reported

Word has been received in Lincoln of the deaths of two former Lincolnities, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. (Bud) Carr of Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. Carr founded the Midwest Heating and Cooling Company and in 1963 founded Carr Metal Products. He died April 20 of a heart attack.

Mrs. Burdette E. Carr died April 9 after an extended illness.

Both attended Wesleyan Conservatory of Music and were active in musical circles and on chatauqua circuits. They moved to Indianapolis in 1928, but returned frequently to Lincoln to visit.

Survivors include sisters, Mrs. Grace Tefft and Mrs. Dona DoRan, both of Lincoln.

56th St. Closing For Resurfacing

Robert Holsinger, city traffic engineer, announced Monday that 56th St. from Judson to Adams would be closed Tuesday for street resurfacing.

Holsinger said the street would be closed at noon and would reopen on Saturday.

Prison Officials Seeking Escapee

State Penitentiary authorities continued their search early Tuesday for an inmate who escaped Monday morning by jumping from a truck which was transporting a group of prisoners from a work detail on a prison farm.

The escapee was identified as Edwin Blackfeather, 18, of Alliance, who had served about two months of a 33-month to five-year sentence on three counts of burglary.

Blackfeather was described as 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weighing about 108 pounds. He was wearing blue prison garb at the time of his escape.

A prison spokesman said the man was "not considered dangerous."

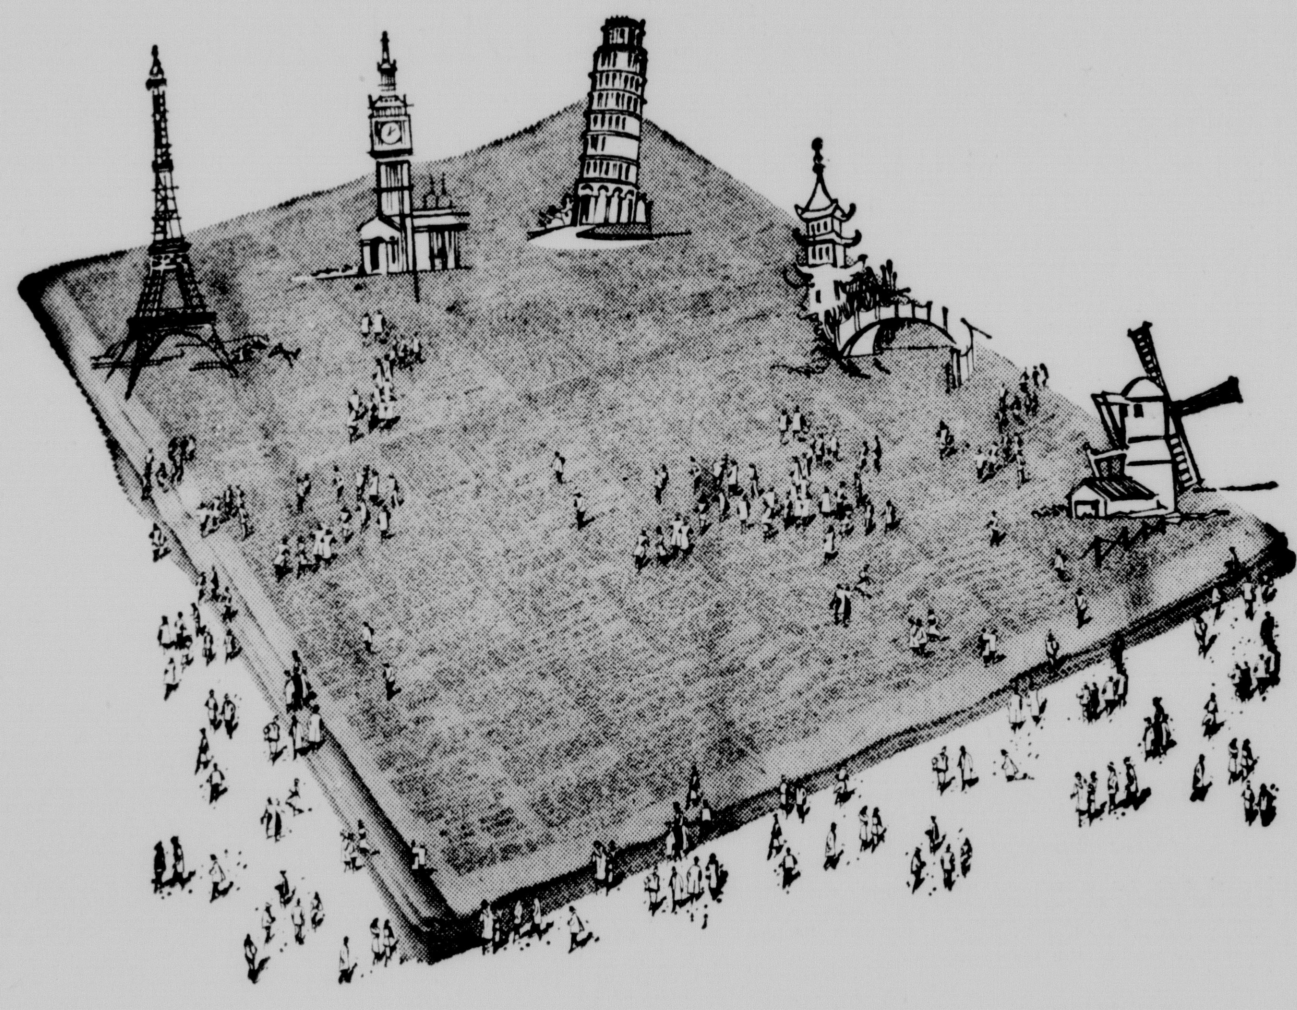
Want ads make a world of difference…



THE WORLD OVER

Want Ads stand alongside the telephone, the telegraph and the written letter as major methods of communication on a person-to-person basis. The difference between a Want Ad and these other means of commuication is that you may use the telephone, telegraph or letter when you know the name and location of the person with whom you wish to communicate. If that person is unknown, you use a Want Ad. The person who will buy an article you wish to sell is unknown to you until he responds to your Want Ad. The person who will buy an article you wish to sell is unknown to you until he responds to your Want Ad. The Want Ad provides your only means of communicating with him.

People throughout the world have this same need for a low cost means to communicate, and Want Ads throughout the world satisfy this need.

FOR FAST, ECONOMICAL RESULTS ITS

Livestock Auction
Sale Every Wednesday
We had another good sale last Wednesday with one of the largest cattle runs of the season. Hogs were in a shorter supply but prices were good with top butchers at $20.50, sows $19 and feeder pigs at $12 to $18.50. Baby calves, as usual a very strong market with prices from $25 to $50 and the choicest lots up to $75 and $80 per head. The 250 lb.-400 lb. steers, heifers and bulls ranged mostly from $32 to $38 per cwt. while those weighing 400-650 lb. cashed freely at $30 to $34.25. Steers and heifers weighing 650 lb. and over ranged from $24.40 to $29.90 and Holsteins (all wgts) at $24 to $29.10. Stock cows at $152.50 to $212, canner and cutters $16.80 to $19 and commercial and utility grades up to $22. Market bulls at $22 to $24. Alfalfa and prairie hay still selling well at 68c to 75c per bale.
Looks like a good sale coming in for Wed. April 30. Consign your stock early—an attendants will be here until 10:00pm Tuesday before the sale so bring them in the evening if the time fits.
SEE YOU WEDNESDAY.
Horse sale Thursday May 1 at 7:30pm.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
